To Rule On Little Rock School

Supreme Court Tackles Integration Issue Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court tackles today the momentous issue of how fast public school integration must move ahead.

The precise legal issue is a narrow one—whether a plan of integration, once in operation, may lawfully be suspended because of popular opposition to it. But the impact of the court's ruling is certain to be far reaching.

Specifically, the court will determine whether Little Rock's Central High School must readmit Negro students, whose attendance there last year brought on violence and the subsequent use of troops.

But the decision, whatever it is, will throw out guidelines to federal district judges grappling elsewhere with the vexing problem of applying the high court's 1955 command for "all deliberate speed" in integrating schools.

Any delay for Little Rock could mean more time for other areas of the Southland in their bitter stand against having Negroes and whites go to school together.

But a ruling that Little Rock is not entitled to suspend its integration program until January 1961 would be the signal for district judges in other areas to take a firmer stand on integration orders. Several judges have withheld final orders until the court rules.

There was no indication how soon the Supreme Court would rule, but a decision was generally expected by the weekend. The Little Rock school is scheduled to open Monday, and the court called its second extraordinary session in two weeks to hear the case in advance of that time.

Actually, the court already has heard—and read in legal briefs—substantially what the opposing lawyers prepared to say today.

Two weeks ago the court heard the plea of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People for quick removal of legal barriers to the immediate resumption of integration in Central High.

The new litigation started during the summer, when Federal Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., granted a 2½-year suspension of court-ordered integration at Little Rock. On Aug. 18, the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis reversed Judge Lemley's order, but later granted a stay to permit appeal.

The arguments two weeks ago were on making the Court of Appeals decision effective until the high court could rule. But the court delayed action on the temporary move and called for new arguments today on the merits of the case. Its decision thus will be final on the issue.

Here briefly are the conflicting arguments, as set forth in legal briefs filed in advance of today's arguments:

By the school board:

1. It made a prompt start toward integration and has continued throughout to act in good faith. Because of severe impairment of the educational system, both present and prospective, it is entitled to a postponement "regardless of the source and motivation of the destructive forces."

2. Thousands of school districts in the South have made no step toward integration and are conducting educational programs without harassment of any sort.

3. Thus, the board says, it would be the height of irony if the Little Rock school district, having made the start in good faith, were denied the postponement it seeks.

By the NAACP, through Atty. Thurgood Marshall:

1. Neither overt public resist-

Nationalist Supply Ships Retreat From Red Guns

2 Withdraw Under Heavy Shell Fire

Unable To Unload Bulk Of Supplies On Battered Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist supply ships, convoyed by American warships, reached Quemoy beach today but were forced back by a heavy Red artillery barrage before they could unload the bulk of their cargo.

Associated Press correspondent Gene Kramer, in a dispatch from Quemoy off the Red mainland, said an "intense saturation shelling" forced two supply ships to withdraw after they had unloaded only a few supplies for the beleaguered Nationalist garrison.

American warships stood off at a distance, he said.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said earlier that the supply ships had returned undamaged to their Pescadores base after unloading.

This was the first attempt to run supplies to the garrison since Monday, when Communist artillery fire blew up an ammunition ship on the Quemoy beach and forced another to retreat after losing most of its cargo.

Stormy weather prevented the dispatch of convoys on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Red artillery opened up at the appearance of the convoy today after being silent 21 hours.

The Communist shore guns had been silent for 21 hours, but a storm in the Formosa Strait Wednesday had prevented dispatch of a convoy.

The American ships convoyed the desperately needed supplies through the international waters of the Formosa Strait for the first time on Sunday. That time there was no Red opposition.

The second supply convoy was Monday. Communist artillery blew up a Nationalist ammunition ship on the beach. The other landing barge backed off and lost most of its supplies.

The U.S. command on Formosa announced that American jet pilots have begun taking an active part in the defense of Formosa itself.

A spokesman said American air units are now in position at bases here and "have assumed full alert responsibilities for nighttime defense of Taiwan (Formosa)."

That means the planes stand on runways, fully armed and warmed up. American pilots in combat flight suits are ready to take off the moment there is any report of unidentified planes approaching.

ARMS, AMMUNITION SEIZED. A boatload of Cuban rebels with enough arms and ammunition to start a small war was seized at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Wednesday by federal agents. Four States Hit Hardest In Polio Attack

Michigan, Florida, Texas, California Are Taking Brunt

NEW YORK (AP)—Four states — Michigan, Texas, Florida and California—are taking the brunt of this season's polio attack, and late reports indicate that Detroit may be the hardest hit city.

However, over-all, the United States may be experiencing a record low year for the post-Salk vaccine period.

The nation showed 2,223 cases for the 35 weeks ended Aug. 30. This compares with 3,879 cases for the same period last year and 13,711 for the average period of the years 1953-57.

But 40 per cent of the cases fell on four states. Texas had 297, Michigan had 292, Florida had 160 and California had 146 for 35-week totals.

And later figures from the National Foundation's Wayne (Detroit) County chapter showed the case load had jumped a 356—more than the whole state of Michigan reported 11 days before.

Other high states according to U.S. Public Health Service totals were: New York 111, New Jersey 110 and Ohio 94.

There have been several outbreaks of polio across the nation. Another city reporting a sizable number was Miami, Fla. National Foundation spokesmen said there were a reported 66 cases in Dade County.

The reason polio still afflicts so many in the nation is because so many people have failed to get their Salk vaccine shots, the National Foundation says.

On Far East Policies

Ike Plans Radio, TV Talk Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower goes on nationwide radio-TV tonight to seek more support among the peoples of America and the free world for his Far East policies.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen at Eisenhower's Newport, R.I., summer headquarters that the President would make a major address from the White House at 10 p.m. (DST).

It will be carried live over ABC television and major radio networks, with NBC and CBS television carrying delayed telecasts at 11:15 p.m. (DST).

Hagerty said Eisenhower decided to make the talk after consulting by telephone with Secretary of State Dulles. He said the President would return to Newport Friday morning.

Two events Tuesday apparently supported what Dulles' public affairs advisers have been telling him: the U.S. public and the allies were not comprehending the whys and wherefors of the China crisis.

Those events were Dulles' 45-minute news conference Tuesday morning and his hour-long conference Tuesday afternoon with Australian Ambassador Robert G. Casey.

Casey, a veteran diplomat, was reported to have voiced uneasiness about U.S. policies. But after an hour with Dulles and a half hour with Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary for Far East affairs, Casey pronounced himself possessed of "much more understanding."

His statement seemed to bear out Dulles' news conference comment that in time more and more allies and even more neutrals would come to appreciate U.S. Far East policy.

That policy includes support of Nationalist China, tolerance of a Nationalist military buildup on the islands within sight of the Red-held mainland, and threatening to meet force with force if the Communists seemed about to wrest the islands from the Nationalists.

Board Names 32 Places For Voters' Signup

Citywide Campaign Scheduled Tuesday In Every Precinct

The Columbiana County Election Board today listed the 32 locations throughout East Liverpool in which its registrars will be on duty Tuesday to sign electors for the Nov. 4 general election.

With one exception, the registrars will be on duty in the usual precinct voting places. The exception is in Precinct 3-B, which generally votes at City Hall. The 3-B registrars will work in the Election Board office directly across W. 6th St.

East Liverpool's registration total stands today at 10,221 — 2,421 under the all-time record of 12,642 established before the November 1940 general election, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, pointed out. He said some of the loss is attributable to the suburbs that started after World War II.

The registration deadline falls Wednesday, Sept. 24. Persons who do not qualify before that date will be unable to vote in the November election on such issues as state, district and county offices, a city income tax repealer and the controversial "right - to - work" amendment.

The registrars will be on duty Tuesday from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 5 to 10 p. m. A Democrat and a Republican will staff each registration point.

Here are the registration centers:

Vote Totals Exceed GOP

Democrats Hike Estimates Of Their Gains In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats raised their estimates of Senate gains today on the strength of surprising party turnouts at the polls in half a dozen states.

On top of their impressive sweep in Maine's general election Monday, Democrats rolled up greater vote totals than the Republicans in Tuesday primaries in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Utah. This followed an earlier primary trend in such states as California and Ohio.

On the basis of these showings, chairman George A. Smathers (D-Fla) of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee said he is forecasting a minimum gain to 10 party seats in the Senate. Democrats now outnumber Republicans there 49-47.

Of the 20 Republican seats at stake in November, 12 were won by GOP candidates by less than 5 per cent vote margins in the 1952 Eisenhower landslide. One in Maine, which the GOP won handily then, already has been lost to the Democrats.

Democratic strategists say that if the trend of their increased primary strength carries through to November, they have a good chance of knocking off Republicans in the 1952 marginal states of Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, Nevada, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Democrats class two Republicans seats in West Virginia in this group also. One of them is held by GOP Sen. Chapman Revercomb, elected in 1956 to fill out the unexpired term of the late Democratic Sen. Harley M. Kilgore. GOP Sen. John D. Hoblitzell Jr. was appointed to the other after the death of Democrat Matthew M. Neely.

To this list Democrats have added California and Minnesota, where they outpolled the GOP in the primaries. They are hopeful about New York and New Jersey.

On the other hand, Republicans have slim pickings from among the 13 Democratic seats that go on the block, although they are optimistic about adding a couple in Alaska when it becomes the 49th state.

In 1952 Democrats won with less than 55 per cent of the total vote in Massachusetts, Missouri, Montana, New Mexico and Rhode Island.

In two of these states, Republican candidates would have to dispose of two potential contenders for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination,

Housewife Appointed For 'Meter Maid' Post

A housewife from the Cain St. area today was named a city "Meter Maid," bringing the force of woman parking checkers to its full strength of four.

Appointment of Mrs. Joan Marie Starr of Cartwright St. was announced by Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti. She will start work Tuesday, beginning of a new city pay period. Mrs. Starr is married and the mother of two.

Mrs. Starr was chosen from a field of 31 applicants. She replaces Mrs. Marjorie Reed of Holliday St., who resigned about two weeks ago. The job pays $1.30 hourly

Strike Closes Down 209 Of A & P Stores

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A strike of 5,000 employes today closed 209 markets of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. in western Pennsylvania and in some sections of eastern Ohio and West Virginia.

Another estimated 4,000 employes not involved in deadlocked contract talks were idled.

A & P Strike Shuts Outlet At Midland

The Midland outlet of the A. & P. food chain was closed today in the Tri-State District strike called by food handlers of the Pittsburgh Division.

Stores at Chester and Wellsville remained open, as did the East Liverpool super - market, which has a local union not involved in the dispute.

The 5,000 strikers are represented by Local 590 of the Amalgamated Food Employes Local.

The strike hit 123 stores employing 3,400 workers in the company's Pittsburgh division; 80 stores and 1,400 workers in the Altoona division and six stores in the Youngstown (Ohio) division with 200 workers at New Castle, Ellwood City, Grove City, Titusville, Oil City and Franklin, Pa.

A few of the affected stores were in the Steubenville, Ohio, and Weirton, W. Va. areas. They are affiliated with the company's Pittsburgh division.

The Pittsburgh contract expired at midnight last Sunday. The other two divisions' contracts expired last July 12.

Pension demands reportedly became the chief issue in negotiations.

Midland Fire Burns Couple

Electric Cord To Apartment Blamed

A Midland couple suffered burns in an apartment fire that caused $250 damage early today. An overloaded extension cord from a garage to their one - room basement quarters was blamed by firemen.

John Varavett, 20, got his wife out of the blazing room then reentered to try and fight the blaze. He is in "fair" condition at the Rochester General Hospital with first, second and third degree burns of the face, hands and left leg.

His wife suffered second degree burns to her legs and shoulder but was released after treatment at the Crucible Mill Hospital, where the husband was given first aid before going to the hospital.

According to Vincent D'Itri, fire chief, policemen summoned to the fire had it extinguished when he and Lt. Daniel Orlando arrived at the scene. Some of the policemen are also volunteer firemen.

D'Itri stressed today that overloading extension cords is dangerous and that the fire could have been worse.

The property at 29 3rd St. is owned by Ercole Cervelli. The fire occurred at 4 a. m.

Locomotive Rams Rig At Crossing At Rogers

Traffic on Route 7 at Rogers was blocked for several hours Wednesday night after a Montour Railroad Co. engine struck the trailer of a rig of the Darling & Co. as the tractor-trailer outfit went over the crossing about 8:30.

Walter Rockwell of New Middleton, driver of the rig, suffered a cut of the forehead and bruised leg, in the crash which scattered waste butchering products over the crossing and engine.

The tractor and one trailer of the rig crossed the tracks but the moving train struck the second trailer, witnesses said.

County Board Member Quits

Greenwood Leaves, Cites Other Duties

Harry T. Greenwood of Apples Corners, member of the Columbiana County Board of Education since April 1957, has submitted his resignation, County School Supt. James L. McBride, clerk of the board, reported today.

Greenwood, who is also clerk of the Beaver Local Board of Education, cited the pressure of his duties as clerk and as cafeteria manager for the school as his reasons for withdrawing.

Greenwood also said a throat condition has become a hindrance to performing his duties as a board member.

In his letter of resignation, Greenwood said he has enjoyed working with past and present members of the county board. He said he realizes the important issues the board constantly faces, and feels he would be unabe to give the necessary attention to every aspect of the work the board is doing.

Greenwood was appointed in 1957 to succeed Jack Pozenel of West Point, who resigned because his post as president of the Beaver Local Board was incompatible with serving on the county board.

Pozenel had been named to replace Paul Wilms of Columbiana R. D. who was made ineligible to serve on the board when the territory in which he resided was transferred from the county district to Columbiana School District.

Supt. McBride said the letter of resignation will be presented to the county board at its meeting Tuesday night.

Study By Grand Jury Continues On Schedule

The September Grand Jury's investigation is moving ahead on schedule, with 16 witnesses in line to testify in 11 cases today, Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw said at Lisbon.

Barring complications, the Grand Jury still is expected to report late Friday afternoon, the prosecutor said.

Friday's schedule calls for investigation of three second degree manslaughter charges and three statutory rape cases, the prosecutor said. One of the manslaughter charges is against William E. Ahlston, 36, of Alliance, whose auto crashed into another June 7 on Route 62 at Westville, killing Jack Hickaman, 31, of Sebring.

Four States Hit Hardest In Polio Attack

Michigan, Florida, Texas, California Are Taking Brunt

NEW YORK (AP)—Four states — Michigan, Texas, Florida and California—are taking the brunt of this season's polio attack, and late reports indicate that Detroit may be the hardest hit city.

However, over-all, the United States may be experiencing a record low year for the post-Salk vaccine period.

The nation showed 2,223 cases for the 35 weeks ended Aug. 30. This compares with 3,879 cases for the same period last year and 13,711 for the average period of the years 1953-57.

But 40 per cent of the cases fell on four states. Texas had 297, Michigan had 292, Florida had 160 and California had 146 for 35-week totals.

And later figures from the National Foundation's Wayne (Detroit) County chapter showed the case lead had jumped a 356—more than the whole state of Michigan reported 11 days before.

Other high states according to U.S. Public Health Service totals were: New York 111, New Jersey 110 and Ohio 94.

There have been several outbreaks of polio across the nation. Another city reporting a sizable number was Miami, Fla. National Foundation spokesmen said there were a reported 66 cases in Dade County.

The reason polio still afflicts so many in the nation is because so many people have failed to get their Salk vaccine shots, the National Foundation says.

A & P Strike Shuts Outlet At Midland

The Midland outlet of the A. & P. food chain was closed today in the Tri-State District strike called by food handlers of the Pittsburgh Division.

Stores at Chester and Wellsville remained open, as did the East Liverpool super - market, which has a local union not involved in the dispute.

The 5,000 strikers are represented by Local 590 of the Amalgamated Food Employes Local.

The strike hit 123 stores employing 3,400 workers in the company's Pittsburgh division; 80 stores and 1,400 workers in the Altoona division and six stores in the Youngstown (Ohio) division with 200 workers at New Castle, Ellwood City, Grove City, Titusville, Oil City and Franklin, Pa.

A few of the affected stores were in the Steubenville, Ohio, and Weirton, W. Va. areas. They are affiliated with the company's Pittsburgh division.

The Pittsburgh contract expired at midnight last Sunday. The other two divisions' contracts expired last July 12.

Pension demands reportedly became the chief issue in negotiations.

Midland Fire Burns Couple

Electric Cord To Apartment Blamed

A Midland couple suffered burns in an apartment fire that caused $250 damage early today. An overloaded extension cord from a garage to their one - room basement quarters was blamed by firemen.

John Varavett, 20, got his wife out of the blazing room then reentered to try and fight the blaze. He is in "fair" condition at the Rochester General Hospital with first, second and third degree burns of the face, hands and left leg.

His wife suffered second degree burns to her legs and shoulder but was released after treatment at the Crucible Mill Hospital, where the husband was given first aid before going to the hospital.

According to Vincent D'Itri, fire chief, policemen summoned to the fire had it extinguished when he and Lt. Daniel Orlando arrived at the scene. Some of the policemen are also volunteer firemen.

D'Itri stressed today that overloading extension cords is dangerous and that the fire could have been worse.

The property at 29 3rd St. is owned by Ercole Cervelli. The fire occurred at 4 a. m.

Locomotive Rams Rig At Crossing At Rogers

Traffic on Route 7 at Rogers was blocked for several hours Wednesday night after a Montour Railroad Co. engine struck the trailer of a rig of the Darling & Co. as the tractor-trailer outfit went over the crossing about 8:30.

Walter Rockwell of New Middleton, driver of the rig, suffered a cut of the forehead and bruised leg, in the crash which scattered waste butchering products over the crossing and engine.

The tractor and one trailer of the rig crossed the tracks but the moving train struck the second trailer, witnesses said.

County Board Member Quits

Greenwood Leaves, Cites Other Duties

Harry T. Greenwood of Apples Corners, member of the Columbiana County Board of Education since April 1957, has submitted his resignation, County School Supt. James L. McBride, clerk of the board, reported today.

Greenwood, who is also clerk of the Beaver Local Board of Education, cited the pressure of his duties as clerk and as cafeteria manager for the school as his reasons for withdrawing.

Greenwood also said a throat condition has become a hindrance to performing his duties as a board member.

In his letter of resignation, Greenwood said he has enjoyed working with past and present members of the county board. He said he realizes the important issues the board constantly faces, and feels he would be unabe to give the necessary attention to every aspect of the work the board is doing.

Greenwood was appointed in 1957 to succeed Jack Pozenel of West Point, who resigned because his post as president of the Beaver Local Board was incompatible with serving on the county board.

Pozenel had been named to replace Paul Wilms of Columbiana R. D. who was made ineligible to serve on the board when the territory in which he resided was transferred from the county district to Columbiana School District.

Supt. McBride said the letter of resignation will be presented to the county board at its meeting Tuesday night.

Study By Grand Jury Continues On Schedule

The September Grand Jury's investigation is moving ahead on schedule, with 16 witnesses in line to testify in 11 cases today, Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw said at Lisbon.

Barring complications, the Grand Jury still is expected to report late Friday afternoon, the prosecutor said.

Friday's schedule calls for investigation of three second degree manslaughter charges and three statutory rape cases, the prosecutor said. One of the manslaughter charges is against William E. Ahlston, 36, of Alliance, whose auto crashed into another June 7 on Route 62 at Westville, killing Jack Hickaman, 31, of Sebring.

Court Income Drops Slightly

Increases Expected As Autumn Arrives

Municipal Court income fell off slightly in August at the height of the summer vacation season, but the autumn upturn is expected to begin this month, Clerk Harold L. Powell said today.

The court's overall income last month hit $5,539, down $1,434 from the $6,973 recorded in July. The amount paid into the city treasury totaled $5,195, a drop of $652 from the $5,847 of July.

But the overall amount handled by the court was up slightly. The court handled $4,240 in the civil branch and $5,429 in the criminal branch, a total of $9,670. This was a gain of $250 from the overall total of $9,420 handled in July. It includes funds collected on trusteeships and judgments in civil actions and refunded bonds in criminal cases.

The city's share of the August revenue included $734 in costs from civil cases and $4,461 in fines, costs and forfeitures from criminal actions. In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $194 to the state as its share of fines resulting from Highway Patrol cases; $74 to the county, also from state cases, and $75 to the Law Library Association.

A breakdown of cases showed: 77 civil actions filed, 59 disposed of and 158 pending; 100 city criminal cases filed, 99 disposed of and 29 pending, and 42 state criminal cases filed, 42 disposed of and 68 pending.

Woman $7,500 Richer In 'Wrong Door' Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Florence Kotz Ross, a 40-year-old secretary, is $7,500 richer — because she isn't Marilyn Monroe.

Mrs. Ross was behind the celebrated "wrong door" smashed Nov. 5, 1954, when four men burst into her Hollywood apartment searching for the blonde movie queen. Miss Monroe was in an adjacent apartment.

The settlement was paid by Joe DiMaggio, Miss Monroe's former husband, who was identified by Mrs. Ross in a $200,000 civil suit as leader of the raiding party.

Cumberland's Band Mothers Hold Tag Day

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Band Mothers of the high school held a Tag Day today in the community to obtain funds for projects of the coming year.

A house - to - house canvass also is planned.

The mothers spent a total of $1,422 during the 1957-58 school term for equipment and activities of the New Cumberland High School Band, Mrs. Stewart Glass, treasurer, reported.

Expenditures included drums, $668; band banquet, $90.55; band jackets, $174; transportation and hotel expenses for the band trip to Clarksburg, $165.36; band transportation to football games, $85.31; Boy Scout concession stand, $25; Junior Band party, $26.04. and $31.74 in miscellaneous expenses.

There was a balance of $197.87 at the start of the last term and $1,636.57 was received through various fund - raising projects. A $80 balance was on hand at the beginning of this year, Mrs. Glass said. It was deposited in a savings account to start a fund for new band uniforms.

Missile Expert Jittery Over Mail From Juveniles

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Army missile expert is getting jittery over his fan mail from juvenile rocket enthusiasts. He's afraid he may get blown up.

The trouble, says Lt. Col. Charles M. Parkin, is that some of the kids "think nothing, apparently, of tucking into their letters enough solid rocket fuel to render me of no service whatsoever to anybody."

The mail began pouring in to him at nearby Ft. Belvoir, Va., several months ago after some magazine articles and TV demonstrations tabbed Parkin as the key man in the Army's program of cooperating with the small fry missilemen.

His appeal to the youngsters: Please omit fuel samples.

Man Electrocuted

Maritime Official Testifies At Crowley's Murder Trial

TOKYO (AP) — Ben H. Guill, vice-chairman of the U.S. Federal Maritime Board, testified today he did not hear "a single cross word" between Joseph P. Crowley and T. A. D. Jones Jr., during the evening before Jones died.

Guill, a former Texas congressman, testified as a defense witness in Crowley's manslaughter trial.

Crowley, 49, of New Haven, Conn. is charged with fatally beating Jones, 45, also of New Haven and his brother-in-law and business associate, in their hotel suite May 8 after an all-night drinking party.

Crowley has pleaded innocent.

Guill said he accompanied Jones and Crowley to various night clubs on the night of May 7 and had a nightcap with them in the hotel suite the two Connecticut businessmen shared. He said he left them between 3:15 and 3:30 a.m. and went to his own room nearby.

"Honest, I did not hear a single cross word between Crowley and Jones and it was a very pleasant evening," he testified.

The prosecution charges that Crowley beat up Jones between 3:30 and 5:30 a.m. Jones was found dead in his room some 12 hours later after being treated by a doctor.

In explanation of Crowley's reluctance to have an autopsy on Jones' body, Guill testified Crowley said: "I have to take him back and I don't want to see him all cut up." Guill asserted this was the normal reaction of a Roman Catholic because of the mutiliation of the body involved.

The autopsy attributed death to cerebral hemorrhage caused by blows.

Guill said he urged an autopsy "for the benefit of Jones' family because it would be better to establish whether he had died of heart failure or suffocation (as an attending Japanese physician first suggested) rather than that the word gets back he died of intoxication."

Franz Liszt, Hungarian composer, was the first to compose his music to literary librettos. He was also a highly regarded piano virtuoso.

'Where Will The Kids Play?'

The question "Where will the kids play?" has been heard again. It's always challenging and one that deserves serious thought each time it is brought up.

So long as there are young people there will be a need for the best possible recreational facilities. But, as with so many other deserving enterprises, money seems to be the big stumbling block. It costs money to get play centers started and it takes more money to maintain them properly.

From time to time, East Liverpool has made commendable strides recreationwise, and still is doing all possible to advance such a program. But too frequently the situation has been this: A recreation area has been established only to deteriorate or disappear completely because of lack of funds.

The former Y-Vodrey lot offers a striking example. We mention it specifically because of the following question which was raised in a Letter To The Editor: "Why was the lot permitted to become a business site after having been established as a play center?"

The answer is simple: The directors of the YMCA didn't have the money with which to continue the play center.

The YMCA depends to a great extent on the Community Fund for the operation of its physical structure on E. 4th St. and its Pine Ridge camping program and the budget under the fund was never sufficient to include the Y-Vodrey lot in the scheme of things.

Thus, it was with reluctance that the directors found it necessary to dispose of the property and use the income from the money received to rehabilitate and improve the Pine Ridge camp facilities, which they considered a more important phase of the youth program.

What happened to the Y-Vodrey lot has happened to some of our playgrounds, too. When funds ran out, proper supervision and adequate equipment did likewise.

This all serves to re - emphasize that recreational facilities can only be as good as the public support which they receive.

Increased contributions to the Community Fund and continuance of the city income tax are two steps that would help greatly. A broader recreational program is one of the measures promised by the administration under the tax program.

The answer to the question: "Where can we play?" depends to a great extent on how far the public backs it up with dollars.

Picking Up The Loose Rakes

The difference between Lebanon and Quemoy is that discussion is coming before action this time. U.S. troops were committed in Lebanon before there had been any discussion.

In the discussion that followed, there was a strong opinion that U.S. troops had been committed for the wrong reason, in the wrong place at the wrong time. Though there continued to be fierce drum-beating by a faction that believed in force for the sake of force, because force was justified wherever the threat of Communism appeared, most Americans were concerned about getting U.S. troops out of Lebanon, not into war.

The upshot of the discussion was a conclusion that intervention must not have been soundly reasoned in the first place, because it simply could not be shown that Communism ever was importantly present in Lebanon, Iraq, or the Middle East in general.

In Quemoy, there is no question about Communism. The question this time is whether the United States has gone out of its way to risk an involvement with Communism that could not be justified by anything other than its credo that the Chinese on Formosa are the government of China.

As in the Middle East intervention, the American people are being asked to accept something they cannot believe because it is not provable. It is as though they were being led in a half-light through a yard cluttered with rakes, wondering when a misstep may cause another one to fly up and hit them in the face.

Those who say it is un-American and half treasonable to wonder how many more rakes there may be to step on — and to wish all the rakes could be gathered up and put in a safe place — are unwilling to face up to the reality that has grown out of the post-war years.

It is still "my country right or wrong" in a showdown, but in all the trial runs Americans want their country to be unassailably right. In that way, they hope, there may not be quite so many showdowns.

The Scalp Of Sherman Adams

The scalp of Sherman Adams may become as famous in its way as the War of Jenkin's Ear.

There is a revived demand for it, ostensibly as the result of Democratic success in the Maine election. Actually, the demand has vastly more significance than what happened at the polls in a state that used to lean toward the Republicans but now leans toward the Democrats.

The scalp of Sherman Adams has become a symbol of the fight for control of the Republican party.

If its owner had not made the mistake of accepting substantial favors from an industrialist named Bernard Goldfine, the Republicans who want him to be scalped as punishment for his role in party factionalism would have found something else — or obliging Democrats would have found something for them.

The former governor of New Hampshire is Dwight Eisenhower's personal choice as No. 1 White House assistant. He landed the Republican nomination for Mr. Eisenhower in 1952.

He bestowed patronage jobs on the deserving after Mr. Eisenhower took office — and he withheld jobs from the undeserving. He decided who would go in to see the President and who would have to be satisfied with something less than the real Dwight D.. He made decisions and gave advise. He ran the White House during presidential illnesses.

All things considered, Sherman Adams has had a chance to make more enemies in politics than any other man of his generation. Besides the people who dislike him personally, there are the people who dislike him for what he symbolizes in the struggle for power inside the Republican party, not to mention the Democrats who want his scalp to compensate for the scalps that Republicans cut off the Truman entourage.

Do not bet that Mr. Adams will go back to New Hampshire with his hair intact. Politics is not logic but emotionalism—like scalping.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mortimer Topblower is for a quiz show in which contestants put the emcee into the booth and test intelligence. "I may include directors and sponsors," he declares.

"The public is fed up with a demonstration of intelligence by guests and will welcome a switch to show which offers prizes for dumbness on the part of people behind quiz shows. My field tests indicate that they can be as stupid as they come."

MORTIMER SAYS that out of 32 quiz show emcees tested by him only two knew who wrote "Hiawatha" or came close to locating the Hanging Gardens of Babylon. Out of 40 directors only one and a half could give Buffalo Bill's real name, without extra time. (The half director was half in his office and half in the DA's office.) "But it's the sponsors I want to see in these isolation booths," declares Topblower.

"My tests show that some men who dish out fortunes for shows emphasizing the knowledge of others are themselves pretty ignorant. They have been too busy acquiring status as sponsors of quiz shows to do any reading or studying on their own account.

"I tested 26 top sponsors. Not one knew what woman said, 'Shoot if you must this old gray head.' Only three could spell 'ambergris' and, of these, two thought it was a tropical fruit. The other one said it was a ground-steak sandwich with lettuce and tomato.

"We found one quiz show sponsor who, suddenly shoved into a booth and asked the name of the product which he was exploiting at a cost of a million dollars, FLUNKED OUT. All he could say was he knew the name before he got into the booth but couldn't recall it under pressure."

THE TOPBLOWER quiz show would give big prizes for contestants giving the fewest correct answers. Anybody who answered one out of ten would be eliminated at once. It would be a great novelty to see a $250,000 jackpot being fought for all winter by people not coming close to knowing answers to questions based on the "McGuffey First Reader."

"U.S. DELAYS SHOT At Moon For Month" —headline. Oh, well, if we can wait, the moon can.

Dr. John Theobald, new head of New York schools, says, "It is important that principals have authority to say to a youngster, 'Young man, get out of here! We can't have you disturbing the other pupils,' " but admits this "involves some risks." What risks? In these days of school room baddies can't a principal call for air cover and naval support if he needs it?

Grand Central Station has a new station master, Joe P. McAvoy. What does the boss of a big metropolitan station have to do? Is it purely a matter of train operations or is he responsible, too, for those electric signs, the big Eastman "spectacular," cobwebs, litter, a mother's demand, "Help me find my little boy," and the Squawk of a stranger, "I missed my train!" Also, "How was I to know that the revolving door I rushed through took me into a barrroom instead of a trainshed?"

Two men have taken out a patent for a circular bed, one appeal being that it can be placed in the center of the room, which is always cooler. (After all these years of trying to get to sleep in an oblong bed must we now start all over in a round one!) Another feature of the new bed is a revolving mattress which can be wound by crank. This saves the trouble of turning the mattress by hand to prevent sags and lumps. But some folks like sags. We sleep easier in a sag, in fact. And we do fairly well with lumps.

Odd Facts

The words of the U. S. national anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," are written to the original tune of "Anacreon In Heaven." The origin of this tune is obscure, but it may have been written by John Stafford Smith, a British composer, born in 1750.

The armistice ending the Korean War was signed July 7, 1953, and the fighting ended 12 hours later.

A Probable Early Casualty

Hoffa Stages The 'Great Reform'

By Victor Riesel

Jim Hoffa wants to be president of the Teamsters' Union. He isn't. He knows it. Soon the federal courts will prove this. There now is really only one power in that behemoth outfit. That power is a man Hoffa has never seen or spoken to—Judge F. Dickinson, Letts. The judge shortly is expected to tell Hoffa to clean up or get out as provisional president.

Victor Riesel

To act swiftly before the Federal Court does, Hoffa and his brain-trusters have conjured up a "now-you-see-it-now-you-don't" reform movement. Sort of a built-in, controllable "crusade."

The Teamsters national headquarters plans some slow motion suspension of officers exposed by the McClellan committee.

The officials will be given enough advance knowledge of the coming suspensions to allow them to find some friendly local judges to help protect them against that grim palace of Hoffa justice, the Temos' national office.

Then, when the suspension orders arrive, the local officialdom will be fully prepared.

THE LOCAL officers simply will wave local court orders at the "crusaders" from Washington way. These local court orders will enjoin the national office from suspending the boys and lifting their union's charters.

Hoffa's avant-garde will report back to the chief. He will launch long legal proceedings.

From the national Teamsters headquarters will come crackling statements that they tried but the courts intervened. This then is the silken strategy—to give the impression of reform. But no one actually will have been reformed or removed under this scheme.

Yet not even Hoffa's expensive legal and public relations talent believes that many days can slip by without some of the Teamster officers on Sen. McClellan's list being dropped.

So, in the dusky hours over the canyons of Manhattan we come to still another stratagem. Here, in secret, some weeks ago, one of Hoffa's international union representatives met most of the night with seven of the more notorious, but less influential, local Teamster officials exposed by the embattled Bob Kennedy.

Joffa's aide said that the time had come for the seven local officials to resign. This would ease Jimmy's "embarrassment." The seven were well fixed. They had investments and businesses of their own.

Other jobs would be found for them, if necessary. But, the emissary said, in any event this is what "Jimmy" wants.

IN EFFECT, they were being told they are expendable since they are the ones most likely to succeed in breaking back into the headlines.

Furthermore, they were told that if they did reign, they'd be less likely to draw federal lightning.

There are others who are "expendable" right across the land. At about the same time the New York "meet" had strewn its final cigarette butt, similar "meets" were being held in other big cities.

Informed circles believe that one was held in Detroit and another in Chicago. Everywhere the point was made that Hoffa was under terrific strain. And no relief was around the corner of Washington's streets.

This is true. The McClellan committee has a schedule packed far more heavily than is realized. It plans to hold hearings right through September, November and December of '58 and January of '59.

COUNSELLOR KENNEDY will be digging into the Chicago Teamsters local led by Joey Glimco, who once posted armed guards outside his union headquarters to keep out committee probers.

Kennedy is also planning another public look at the Mafia and the juke box mobs. Some of these will lead to Teamsters from time to time and state to state. Which means that Hoffa and his colleagues will be absorbed by events in the Senate hearing room until early next year.

Hoffa and his personal cabinet realize that they can't stand up against the government forever—even with the world's largest union in their hands for the moment. The Teamsters' very size is a problem to Hoffa now. It is so big that his machine is having difficulty keeping it all in line.

Fact is that there is a formidable coalition forming around West Coast Teamster chief Einar Mohn, an international union vice president. And even Hoffa can't fight on all fronts.

That's why he's staging the great "reform."

Double Standard

By Raymond Moley

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has been most articulate this year in attacking the right-to-work proposals now before five states for decision by the voters. That is, of course, her privilege as an American citizen.

It was also her privilege, during her service with the United Nations, to take an entirely opposite stand on the same subject when it was discussed as a right to be protected in all nations.

She might, however, explain why something which was sauce for the international goose should be something other than sauce for an American state.

During the years 1947 and 1948 the Human Rights Commission of the United Nations was in the process of formulating a so-called "Universal Declaration of Human Rights." Mrs. Roosevelt was the representative of the United States on that commission.

At the third session of the United Nations General Assembly, held in Paris in 1948, the draft of the "Universal Declaration of Human Rights" came before it for discussion.

IT WAS REFERRED to the social committee of the Assembly, and there were 85 meetings at which the declaration was combed over, word by word. Again, Mrs. Roosevelt was the United States representative present to defend and explain the document.

Finally, the document was approved by the social committee and later by the plenary session of the Assembly. There was no dissenting vote.

In a sense this declaration is a major achievement of this busy woman's life. It happens that it has never had official recognition by the United States and is largely forgotten. But it should stand as a monument to the ideas and notions of the former First Lady.

Among many, many things, the declaration says:

"Article 23. Section 3. Everyone is free to form or join trade unions for the protection of his own interests."

During the debate there was discussion of four words which had been enclosed in parentheses: "Of his own choice." After discussion, these were omitted.

The omission was agreed to because Mrs. Roosevelt assured those present that the statement as it stood meant freedom of choice.

A MR. FONTANA of Uruguay stated that the right to join trade unions should be accompanied by words to the effect that the worker should have also the right not to join. In reply, Mrs. Roosevelt said:

"It was understood that the words 'everyone is free to form or join trade unions' left individuals free not to join."

In further discussion she said:

"As regards article 23 which concerned the right to work, in the opinion of her delegation that right was meaningless unless it was coupled with the mention of 'just and favorable working conditions,' which would guarantee the worker and his family a decent standard of living. The right to work had to be accompanied by the freedom of choice with respect to lork."

These quotations are from official United Nations recores.

Apparently Mrs. Roosevelt has quite different standards for Indonesians and Arabs than she has for her fellow countrymen. Or is she just another rather transparent political figure playing by ear? Or is her memory faulty? Has she ever thought through the problem she is trying to solve?

Labor In The Saddle

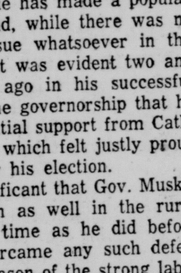
Union Organizations Show Power In Maine

The Democratic party organization didn't win the elections in Maine. The labor union organizations, with plenty of funds to pay precinct workers, really won the victory.



David Lawrence

This has been the pattern also in other states where the votes of the city residents outnumber the votes in the rural districts. In fact, the labor union organizations — whose precinct workers are far more numerous than the active personnel of the party organizations — now hold the balance of power in many states throughout the country.

The totals in Maine, when analyzed by districts, show the power of the labor union vote, particularly in the race for governor, which was won by the Democratic nominee, Clinton Clauson, by about 11,000 votes. The cities readily overcame the Republican lead in the country districts.

As for the senatorial contest, the margin of 60,000 received by Edmund S. Muskie, Democrat, against Sen. Frederick G. Payne, Republican, is not a true reflection of the strength of either party.

Mr. Muskie has made a popular governor and, while there was no religious issue whatsoever in the campaign, it was evident two and four years ago in his successful races for the governorship that he had substantial support from Catholic groups which felt justly proud to work for his election.

It is significant that Gov. Muskie did not run as well in the rural areas this time as he did before but he overcame any such defections by reason of the strong labor union activity in the cities.

SEN. PAYNE is supposed to have been weakened by his admission that he accepted gifts from Bernard Goldfine, who operates textile mills in Maine but Gov. Muskie didn't make this an issue. Rather, the gift issue was undoubtedly used as an excuse by those who didn't care to say openly what their real objection to Sen. Payne was.

Unquestionably Mr. Payne lost many conservative votes. He leaned toward the so-called "modern Republican" side and thereby forfeited the enthusiasm of many conservative Republicans who either didn't vote at all or voted for Gov. Muskie.

Hoping to attract labor union votes, the Payne campaign strategists soft-pedaled the union racketeering scandals — something that also disappointed the conservatives.

The split in the Republican party over the senatorship was not apparent in the governorship race, which was decided by a margin of 11,000 votes as compared to 60,000 in the senatorship contest.

The election of Democrats in two of the three congressional districts in Maine was expected.

Here the labor unions, by the work done in the precincts and through the money spent in campaign activity generally for the gubernatorial and senatorial nominess on the Democratic side, tended to help immeasurably the Democratic candidates for Congress, as many voters, once persuaded to favor one candidate, are likely to vote a straight ticket for other candidates of the same party.

The labor unions endorsed all the Democratic party nominees.

Maine's elections have in recent years been the object of concentrated effort by the labor unions and by the Democratic party organization because the final voting has taken place in September.

A victory has been deemed psychologically important in its effect on the rest of the country. This is the last time it will happen, as election day has been changed in Maine to conform in 1960 to the November date of the rest of the country.

MAINE IS NO LONGER the Republican state it was a quarter of a century ago when Franklin Roosevelt won the electoral vote of the country with the exception of Maine and Vermont.

The same industrialization which has taken place in other areas of the United States has changed the voting pattern in Maine.

The influx of city workers, heavily unionized, has been a boon for the Democratic party, whose policies have been deliberately projected to assist the labor union bosses in their pursuit of monopoly and in their endeavor to avoid any governmental interference with their methods.

Today, more than ever, when racketeering has been exposed and union dues have been shown to be misused in flagrant instances to carry on campaigns of intimidation and coercion to attain improper objectives, the labor unions have managed by their support at the polls of a substantial number of members of Congress to prevent the passage of remedial legislation.

On the surface, the Maine senatorial race is merely the victory of a popular personality but the gains made, especially in the city vote for the Democratic nominees for governor and for Congress, are examples of how powerful the labor union drive has become.

Workers can be sent to the polls by the thousands to buttonhole voters or to transport them in cars from their homes and a good deal of union pressure can be exerted that is comparable to what used to happen a half century ago when employers intimidated voters and threatened them with dire consequences if they didn't vote Republican.

Today, when job security is within the power of a union to bestow or deny, many voters play ball with the bosses of the unions. That's the real story of the Maine elections.

Because it is permissible to publish a plug for something as expensive as Rolls-Royce and Bently automobiles, I loved the latest ad, which pointed out that these fabulous cars do very well on regular gasoline, thank you.

Perhaps I wasn't the only citizen of the United States who quit feeling indignant over U.S.S.R. politicos given minor jobs in distant places when Congress reminded me in its recent session that we turned some of our former presidents out to pasture—with no grass.

This may be tough to figure out but working on it: Is it progress or absurdity to keep shortening the work week when all it does is force more workers to hold two or more jobs, so that work-week shorteners now are in favor of rules limiting workers to membership in one union and therefore one job under union-shop regulations?

It is truly remarkable how many sound, legal reasons people who cherish prejudice against the colored race can dig up for not doing what they fully understand is a moral obligation.

The scalp of Sherman Adams may become as famous in its way as the War of Jenkin's Ear.

There is a revived demand for it, ostensibly as the result of Democratic success in the Maine election. Actually, the demand has vastly more significance than what happened at the polls in a state that used to lean toward the Republicans but now leans toward the Democrats.

The scalp of Sherman Adams has become a symbol of the fight for control of the Republican party.

If its owner had not made the mistake of accepting substantial favors from an industrialist named Bernard Goldfine, the Republicans who want him to be scalped as punishment for his role in party factionalism would have found something else — or obliging Democrats would have found something for them.

The former governor of New Hampshire is Dwight Eisenhower's personal choice as No. 1 White House assistant. He landed the Republican nomination for Mr. Eisenhower in 1952.

He bestowed patronage jobs on the deserving after Mr. Eisenhower took office — and he withheld jobs from the undeserving. He decided who would go in to see the President and who would have to be satisfied with something less than the real Dwight D.. He made decisions and gave advise. He ran the White House during presidential illnesses.

All things considered, Sherman Adams has had a chance to make more enemies in politics than any other man of his generation. Besides the people who dislike him personally, there are the people who dislike him for what he symbolizes in the struggle for power inside the Republican party, not to mention the Democrats who want his scalp to compensate for the scalps that Republicans cut off the Truman entourage.

Do not bet that Mr. Adams will go back to New Hampshire with his hair intact. Politics is not logic but emotionalism—like scalping.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mortimer Topblower is for a quiz show in which contestants put the emcee into the booth and test intelligence. "I may include directors and sponsors," he declares.

"The public is fed up with a demonstration of intelligence by guests and will welcome a switch to show which offers prizes for dumbness on the part of people behind quiz shows. My field tests indicate that they can be as stupid as they come."

MORTIMER SAYS that out of 32 quiz show emcees tested by him only two knew who wrote "Hiawatha" or came close to locating the Hanging Gardens of Babylon. Out of 40 directors only one and a half could give Buffalo Bill's real name, without extra time. (The half director was half in his office and half in the DA's office.) "But it's the sponsors I want to see in these isolation booths," declares Topblower.

"My tests show that some men who dish out fortunes for shows emphasizing the knowledge of others are themselves pretty ignorant. They have been too busy acquiring status as sponsors of quiz shows to do any reading or studying on their own account.

"I tested 26 top sponsors. Not one knew what woman said, 'Shoot if you must this old gray head.' Only three could spell 'ambergris' and, of these, two thought it was a tropical fruit. The other one said it was a ground-steak sandwich with lettuce and tomato.

"We found one quiz show sponsor who, suddenly shoved into a booth and asked the name of the product which he was exploiting at a cost of a million dollars, FLUNKED OUT. All he could say was he knew the name before he got into the booth but couldn't recall it under pressure."

THE TOPBLOWER quiz show would give big prizes for contestants giving the fewest correct answers. Anybody who answered one out of ten would be eliminated at once. It would be a great novelty to see a $250,000 jackpot being fought for all winter by people not coming close to knowing answers to questions based on the "McGuffey First Reader."

Dr. John Theobald, new head of New York schools, says, "It is important that principals have authority to say to a youngster, 'Young man, get out of here! We can't have you disturbing the other pupils,'" but admits this "involves some risks." What risks? In these days of school room baddies can't a principal call for air cover and naval support if he needs it?

Grand Central Station has a new station master, Joe P. McAvoy. What does the boss of a big metropolitan station have to do? Is it purely a matter of train operations or is he responsible, too, for those electric signs, the big Eastman "spectacular," cobwebs, litter, a mother's demand, "Help me find my little boy," and the Squawk of a stranger, "I missed my train!" Also, "How was I to know that the revolving door I rushed through took me into a barrroom instead of a trainshed?"

Two men have taken out a patent for a circular bed, one appeal being that it can be placed in the center of the room, which is always cooler. (After all these years of trying to get to sleep in an oblong bed must we now start all over in a round one!) Another feature of the new bed is a revolving mattress which can be wound by crank. This saves the trouble of turning the mattress by hand to prevent sags and lumps. But some folks like sags. We sleep easier in a sag, in fact. And we do fairly well with lumps.

The words of the U. S. national anthem, "The Star-Spangled Banner," are written to the original tune of "Anacreon In Heaven." The origin of this tune is obscure, but it may have been written by John Stafford Smith, a British composer, born in 1750.

The armistice ending the Korean War was signed July 7, 1953, and the fighting ended 12 hours later.

A Probable Early Casualty

Hoffa Stages The 'Great Reform'

By Victor Riesel

Jim Hoffa wants to be president of the Teamsters' Union. He isn't. He knows it. Soon the federal courts will prove this. There now is really only one power in that behemoth outfit. That power is a man Hoffa has never seen or spoken to—Judge F. Dickinson, Letts. The judge shortly is expected to tell Hoffa to clean up or get out as provisional president.

Victor Riesel

To act swiftly before the Federal Court does, Hoffa and his brain-trusters have conjured up a "now-you-see-it-now-you-don't" reform movement. Sort of a built-in, controllable "crusade."

The Teamsters national headquarters plans some slow motion suspension of officers exposed by the McClellan committee.

The officials will be given enough advance knowledge of the coming suspensions to allow them to find some friendly local judges to help protect them against that grim palace of Hoffa justice, the Temos' national office.

Then, when the suspension orders arrive, the local officialdom will be fully prepared.

THE LOCAL officers simply will wave local court orders at the "crusaders" from Washington way. These local court orders will enjoin the national office from suspending the boys and lifting their union's charters.

Hoffa's avant-garde will report back to the chief. He will launch long legal proceedings.

From the national Teamsters headquarters will come crackling statements that they tried but the courts intervened. This then is the silken strategy—to give the impression of reform. But no one actually will have been reformed or removed under this scheme.

Yet not even Hoffa's expensive legal and public relations talent believes that many days can slip by without some of the Teamster officers on Sen. McClellan's list being dropped.

So, in the dusky hours over the canyons of Manhattan we come to still another stratagem. Here, in secret, some weeks ago, one of Hoffa's international union representatives met most of the night with seven of the more notorious, but less influential, local Teamster officials exposed by the embattled Bob Kennedy.

Joffa's aide said that the time had come for the seven local officials to resign. This would ease Jimmy's "embarrassment." The seven were well fixed. They had investments and businesses of their own.

Other jobs would be found for them, if necessary. But, the emissary said, in any event this is what "Jimmy" wants.

IN EFFECT, they were being told they are expendable since they are the ones most likely to succeed in breaking back into the headlines.

Furthermore, they were told that if they did reign, they'd be less likely to draw federal lightning.

There are others who are "expendable" right across the land. At about the same time the New York "meet" had strewn its final cigarette butt, similar "meets" were being held in other big cities.

Informed circles believe that one was held in Detroit and another in Chicago. Everywhere the point was made that Hoffa was under terrific strain. And no relief was around the corner of Washington's streets.

This is true. The McClellan committee has a schedule packed far more heavily than is realized. It plans to hold hearings right through September, November and December of '58 and January of '59.

COUNSELLOR KENNEDY will be digging into the Chicago Teamsters local led by Joey Glimco, who once posted armed guards outside his union headquarters to keep out committee probers.

Kennedy is also planning another public look at the Mafia and the juke box mobs. Some of these will lead to Teamsters from time to time and state to state. Which means that Hoffa and his colleagues will be absorbed by events in the Senate hearing room until early next year.

Hoffa and his personal cabinet realize that they can't stand up against the government forever—even with the world's largest union in their hands for the moment. The Teamsters' very size is a problem to Hoffa now. It is so big that his machine is having difficulty keeping it all in line.

Fact is that there is a formidable coalition forming around West Coast Teamster chief Einar Mohn, an international union vice president. And even Hoffa can't fight on all fronts.

That's why he's staging the great "reform."

Double Standard

By Raymond Moley

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has been most articulate this year in attacking the right-to-work proposals now before five states for decision by the voters. That is, of course, her privilege as an American citizen.

It was also her privilege, during her service with the United Nations, to take an entirely opposite stand on the same subject when it was discussed as a right to be protected in all nations.

She might, however, explain why something which was sauce for the international goose should be something other than sauce for an American state.

During the years 1947 and 1948 the Human Rights Commission of the United Nations was in the process of formulating a so-called "Universal Declaration of Human Rights." Mrs. Roosevelt was the representative of the United States on that commission.

At the third session of the United Nations General Assembly, held in Paris in 1948, the draft of the "Universal Declaration of Human Rights" came before it for discussion.

IT WAS REFERRED to the social committee of the Assembly, and there were 85 meetings at which the declaration was combed over, word by word. Again, Mrs. Roosevelt was the United States representative present to defend and explain the document.

Finally, the document was approved by the social committee and later by the plenary session of the Assembly. There was no dissenting vote.

In a sense this declaration is a major achievement of this busy woman's life. It happens that it has never had official recognition by the United States and is largely forgotten. But it should stand as a monument to the ideas and notions of the former First Lady.

Among many, many things, the declaration says:

"Article 23. Section 3. Everyone is free to form or join trade unions for the protection of his own interests."

During the debate there was discussion of four words which had been enclosed in parentheses: "Of his own choice." After discussion, these were omitted.

The omission was agreed to because Mrs. Roosevelt assured those present that the statement as it stood meant freedom of choice.

A MR. FONTANA of Uruguay stated that the right to join trade unions should be accompanied by words to the effect that the worker should have also the right not to join. In reply, Mrs. Roosevelt said:

"It was understood that the words 'everyone is free to form or join trade unions' left individuals free not to join."

In further discussion she said:

"As regards article 23 which concerned the right to work, in the opinion of her delegation that right was meaningless unless it was coupled with the mention of 'just and favorable working conditions,' which would guarantee the worker and his family a decent standard of living. The right to work had to be accompanied by the freedom of choice with respect to lork."

These quotations are from official United Nations recores.

Apparently Mrs. Roosevelt has quite different standards for Indonesians and Arabs than she has for her fellow countrymen. Or is she just another rather transparent political figure playing by ear? Or is her memory faulty? Has she ever thought through the problem she is trying to solve?

Labor In The Saddle

Union Organizations Show Power In Maine

The Democratic party organization didn't win the elections in Maine. The labor union organizations, with plenty of funds to pay precinct workers, really won the victory.

David Lawrence

This has been the pattern also in other states where the votes of the city residents outnumber the votes in the rural districts. In fact, the labor union organizations — whose precinct workers are far more numerous than the active personnel of the party organizations — now hold the balance of power in many states throughout the country.

The totals in Maine, when analyzed by districts, show the power of the labor union vote, particularly in the race for governor, which was won by the Democratic nominee, Clinton Clauson, by about 11,000 votes. The cities readily overcame the Republican lead in the country districts.

As for the senatorial contest, the margin of 60,000 received by Edmund S. Muskie, Democrat, against Sen. Frederick G. Payne, Republican, is not a true reflection of the strength of either party.

Mr. Muskie has made a popular governor and, while there was no religious issue whatsoever in the campaign, it was evident two and four years ago in his successful races for the governorship that he had substantial support from Catholic groups which felt justly proud to work for his election.

It is significant that Gov. Muskie did not run as well in the rural areas this time as he did before but he overcame any such defections by reason of the strong labor union activity in the cities.

SEN. PAYNE is supposed to have been weakened by his admission that he accepted gifts from Bernard Goldfine, who operates textile mills in Maine but Gov. Muskie didn't make this an issue. Rather, the gift issue was undoubtedly used as an excuse by those who didn't care to say openly what their real objection to Sen. Payne was.

Unquestionably Mr. Payne lost many conservative votes. He leaned toward the so-called "modern Republican" side and thereby forfeited the enthusiasm of many conservative Republicans who either didn't vote at all or voted for Gov. Muskie.

Hoping to attract labor union votes, the Payne campaign strategists soft-pedaled the union racketeering scandals — something that also disappointed the conservatives.

The split in the Republican party over the senatorship was not apparent in the governorship race, which was decided by a margin of 11,000 votes as compared to 60,000 in the senatorship contest.

The election of Democrats in two of the three congressional districts in Maine was expected.

Here the labor unions, by the work done in the precincts and through the money spent in campaign activity generally for the gubernatorial and senatorial nominess on the Democratic side, tended to help immeasurably the Democratic candidates for Congress, as many voters, once persuaded to favor one candidate, are likely to vote a straight ticket for other candidates of the same party.

The labor unions endorsed all the Democratic party nominees.

Maine's elections have in recent years been the object of concentrated effort by the labor unions and by the Democratic party organization because the final voting has taken place in September.

A victory has been deemed psychologically important in its effect on the rest of the country. This is the last time it will happen, as election day has been changed in Maine to conform in 1960 to the November date of the rest of the country.

MAINE IS NO LONGER the Republican state it was a quarter of a century ago when Franklin Roosevelt won the electoral vote of the country with the exception of Maine and Vermont.

The same industrialization which has taken place in other areas of the United States has changed the voting pattern in Maine.

The influx of city workers, heavily unionized, has been a boon for the Democratic party, whose policies have been deliberately projected to assist the labor union bosses in their pursuit of monopoly and in their endeavor to avoid any governmental interference with their methods.

Today, more than ever, when racketeering has been exposed and union dues have been shown to be misused in flagrant instances to carry on campaigns of intimidation and coercion to attain improper objectives, the labor unions have managed by their support at the polls of a substantial number of members of Congress to prevent the passage of remedial legislation.

On the surface, the Maine senatorial race is merely the victory of a popular personality but the gains made, especially in the city vote for the Democratic nominees for governor and for Congress, are examples of how powerful the labor union drive has become.

Workers can be sent to the polls by the thousands to buttonhole voters or to transport them in cars from their homes and a good deal of union pressure can be exerted that is comparable to what used to happen a half century ago when employers intimidated voters and threatened them with dire consequences if they didn't vote Republican.

Today, when job security is within the power of a union to bestow or deny, many voters play ball with the bosses of the unions. That's the real story of the Maine elections.

BPW Prepares For Week Observances

Plans for the observance of National Business Women's week were outlined Wednesday night at the dinner meeting of the Business & Professional Women's Club at the Travelers Hotel.

Committees told of arrangements for the 31st observance Oct. 5-11.

The public affairs and legislation committees will attend a session of City Council Oct. 6 and the health and safety committee will sponsor the selection of safe and courteous women drivers each day by city police and certificates will be awarded the final day.

A FASHION preview will highlight the regular club meeting Oct. 8 with the career advancement in charge of the dinner and program.

Window displays will be handled by the national security committee and installation of a road sign during the week, showing the National Federation emblem, will be under the direction of the federation committee. General publicity will be handled by the public relations committee.

Mrs. Ethel Wambaugh, president, reported on the district presidents' meeting held Sunday in New Philadelphia, outlining preparation for the District 8 session to be held Oct. 12 in Columbiana. Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, program coordinator and vice president, also attended.

—:—

THE CLUB will take part in the afternoon program for the all-day meeting on the theme, "More Power Through BPW."

Mrs. Wambaugh said the reservation deadline is Oct. 5.

Two new projects were considered.

The club will provide a scholarship for a student nurse at City Hospital and will give the funds for the first year's tuition this week. Mrs. Virginia Manypenny finance chairman, announced the plans.

The career advancement committee has tentative plans for a science fair in the spring. Miss Frances Jones, vice chairman, said the group hopes to create interest in the science departments of the junior high and senior high schools as well as industries which depend on scientific procedure.

Another project of the career advancement committee was outlined and Miss Jones introduced Mrs. Eleanor S. Ripper, an instructor at Geneva College.

MRS. RIPPER outlined the course in improvement of reading speed that the local club is sponsoring. Classes are scheduled to begin Tuesday night at 7 at the hotel with registration to be completed by Monday night.

Mrs. Wambaugh, who will represent the club in a national opinion panel on 1959 autos in Detroit conducted a survey of preferences of club members who drive or own a car.

The national panel will be held Oct. 8-9.

Program books for the year were distributed by Mrs. Dunlop and Miss Mary Alice Lemal, program co-ordinators. The theme will be "Achieve Through Action—Today."

A letter from the state president was read by Miss Lemal, corresponding secretary, announcing that the third small business clinic will be held March 14-15 in Columbus. She also announced the federation awards for district meetings, including District 8 in October.

—:—

MRS. MARTHA Plotts, representing the Civic Music Association, announced the annual membership campaign will be held the week of Sept. 22.

Volunteers were secured by Mrs. Edna Jones for the annual Tag Day for the Child Health Clinic Oct. 4. Mrs. Mae Hartt is clinic chairman and Mrs. Jones and Miss Gladys Debolt will be in charge of the workers.

Miss Helen Auld, chairman, said the health and safety committee will urge members to take the chest X-ray when the mobile unit of the Columbiana County Public Health League is here Oct. 23-24.

The promotion of international correspondence with BPW club members in other countries belonging to the International Federation was outlined by Miss Grace Woodward, international relations chairman.

Both the legislative and public affairs committees, headed by Mrs. Gertrude Reese and Mrs. Gertrude Lowe, said they will poll club members to be sure they are registered to vote in the November elections.

—:—

OTHER REPORTS were given by Mrs. Ila Shingler, federation; Mrs. Helen Moore, membership; Miss Agnes Cleland, public relations; Mrs. Helen Downard, for the national security committee headed by Miss Margaret Baum, and Miss Helen Bibbee, music.

Mrs. Virginia Manypenny, finance chairman, submitted the budget totaling $742.00. The scholarship and science fair projects were allotted a total of $434.

The program included vocal selections by Miss Grace White, a club member. Mrs. Louise Lawton was accompanist.

Members displayed antiques and prized possessions and spoke two minutes each on their "conversation pieces."

Mrs. Dunlop and Miss Lemal were in charge of the program. Some 45 attended.

Minerva Man, 32, Is Indicted For Slaying Mother

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Stark County Grand Jury Wednesday indicted James D. Rutledge, 32, for first degree murder in the strangling of his mother in Minerva.

Prosecutor Norman J. Putman said he would recommend that Rutledge be committed to the Lima State Hospital for observation when he appeared before Common Pleas Judge George N. Graham.

Putman said the 6-foot-2, 237-pound ex-convict had signed a 63-page typewritten statement admitting that the strangled Mrs. Juanita Baxter Rutledge, 58, on Aug. 25.

Mrs. Rutledge was found in an upstairs bedroom at her home in Minerva Aug. 29 after neighbors reported her front porch was cluttered with newspapers and mail. She had been strangled with a necktie and her feet were bound with a belt.

Her son was arrested Sunday at a tavern in Chicago. Police there quoted him as saying he blacked out after an argument with his widowed mother in her home. He said the argument resulted from his courtship of a woman he had met through a lonely hearts club.

Firestone Income Down

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A nine-month net income of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. to July 31 was $35,118,046, or $4.16 a share, the company said Wednesday. This was 21.2 per cent under the three quarters to July 31, 1957, when earnings were $44,583,808 or $5.40 a share. Sales were down 10.1 per cent — from $844,603,697 to $759,719,839.

Honor Society Elects Officers At Wells High

Officers were elected when the Nu Theta Chapter of the National Honor Society of Wells High School at Newell held its initial meeting of the term Monday in the school library.

Carla Grimm was named president; Lena Bowers, vice president; Judy Anderson, treasurer; Arlene Wurzel, representative to the Student Council, and Marilyn Gibas, reporter.

Miss Virginia Wehner and Miss Carolina Mountford are sponsors.

Jobless Benefit Claims In Ohio Drop By 12,517

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The number of Ohioans collecting unemployment benefits took an abrupt drop of 12,517 last week, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC) reported.

All of the drop was registered among those collecting regular benefits, from 136,507 the previous week ended last Saturday. During the week, 4,467 claimants exhausted their 26 - week period of regular benefits.

But, during the week, there was an increase of only 602 in the number collecting special benefits under the temporary program adopted by the Legislature. The total on the special rolls last week was 61,715.

The combined total of those collecting benefits — both regular and special — stood last Saturday at 185,093 compared with 197,610 at the end of the previous week.

Several sizable drops in those receiving regular benefits were recorded in major employment areas: Cleveland, nearly 5,000; Akron, nearly 1,000; Canton, more than 600; Dayton, nearly 1,500.

New claims last week for regular benefits numbered 14,287, an increase of 1,000 above the previous week, but still at least 2,500 below the weekly average of the last month.

Vandiver Easily Wins Governor Bid In Georgia

ATLANTA (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ernest Vandiver won a landslide victory Wednesday in his nomination for governor in Georgia's Democratic primary.

Vandiver, a 40-year-old farmer from Lavonia, overwhelmingly defeated his two opponents in the popular vote.

Nomination in the Democratic primary is equivalent to election.

Vandiver declared himself an adamant segregationist and vowed he would never allow the races to mix in Georgia.

Gov. Marvin Griffin was ineligible to run again under a law limiting the executive to one four-year term. Vandiver takes office in January.

Four Georgia congressmen apparently overrode opposition for renomination, and six others won renomination without opposition.

New Projects Considered

BPW Prepares For Week Observances

Plans for the observance of National Business Women's week were outlined Wednesday night at the dinner meeting of the Business & Professional Women's Club at the Travelers Hotel.

Committees told of arrangements for the 31st observance Oct. 5-11.

The public affairs and legislation committees will attend a session of City Council Oct. 6 and the health and safety committee will sponsor the selection of safe and courteous women drivers each day by city police and certificates will be awarded the final day.

A FASHION preview will highlight the regular club meeting Oct. 8 with the career advancement in charge of the dinner and program.

Window displays will be handled by the national security committee and installation of a road sign during the week, showing the National Federation emblem, will be under the direction of the federation committee. General publicity will be handled by the public relations committee.

Mrs. Ethel Wambaugh, president, reported on the district presidents' meeting held Sunday in New Philadelphia, outlining preparation for the District 8 session to be held Oct. 12 in Columbiana. Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, program coordinator and vice president, also attended.

—:—

THE CLUB will take part in the afternoon program for the all-day meeting on the theme, "More Power Through BPW."

Mrs. Wambaugh said the reservation deadline is Oct. 5.

Two new projects were considered.

The club will provide a scholarship for a student nurse at City Hospital and will give the funds for the first year's tuition this week. Mrs. Virginia Manypenny finance chairman, announced the plans.

The career advancement committee has tentative plans for a science fair in the spring. Miss Frances Jones, vice chairman, said the group hopes to create interest in the science departments of the junior high and senior high schools as well as industries which depend on scientific procedure.

Another project of the career advancement committee was outlined and Miss Jones introduced Mrs. Eleanor S. Ripper, an instructor at Geneva College.

MRS. RIPPER outlined the course in improvement of reading speed that the local club is sponsoring. Classes are scheduled to begin Tuesday night at 7 at the hotel with registration to be completed by Monday night.

Mrs. Wambaugh, who will represent the club in a national opinion panel on 1959 autos in Detroit conducted a survey of preferences of club members who drive or own a car.

The national panel will be held Oct. 8-9.

Program books for the year were distributed by Mrs. Dunlop and Miss Mary Alice Lemal, program co-ordinators. The theme will be "Achieve Through Action—Today."

A letter from the state president was read by Miss Lemal, corresponding secretary, announcing that the third small business clinic will be held March 14-15 in Columbus. She also announced the federation awards for district meetings, including District 8 in October.

—:—

MRS. MARTHA Plotts, representing the Civic Music Association, announced the annual membership campaign will be held the week of Sept. 22.

Volunteers were secured by Mrs. Edna Jones for the annual Tag Day for the Child Health Clinic Oct. 4. Mrs. Mae Hartt is clinic chairman and Mrs. Jones and Miss Gladys Debolt will be in charge of the workers.

Miss Helen Auld, chairman, said the health and safety committee will urge members to take the chest X-ray when the mobile unit of the Columbiana County Public Health League is here Oct. 23-24.

The promotion of international correspondence with BPW club members in other countries belonging to the International Federation was outlined by Miss Grace Woodward, international relations chairman.

Both the legislative and public affairs committees, headed by Mrs. Gertrude Reese and Mrs. Gertrude Lowe, said they will poll club members to be sure they are registered to vote in the November elections.

—:—

OTHER REPORTS were given by Mrs. Ila Shingler, federation; Mrs. Helen Moore, membership; Miss Agnes Cleland, public relations; Mrs. Helen Downard, for the national security committee headed by Miss Margaret Baum, and Miss Helen Bibbee, music.

Mrs. Virginia Manypenny, finance chairman, submitted the budget totaling $742.00. The scholarship and science fair projects were allotted a total of $434.

The program included vocal selections by Miss Grace White, a club member. Mrs. Louise Lawton was accompanist.

Members displayed antiques and prized possessions and spoke two minutes each on their "conversation pieces."

Mrs. Dunlop and Miss Lemal were in charge of the program. Some 45 attended.

Minerva Man, 32, Is Indicted For Slaying Mother

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Stark County Grand Jury Wednesday indicted James D. Rutledge, 32, for first degree murder in the strangling of his mother in Minerva.

Prosecutor Norman J. Putman said he would recommend that Rutledge be committed to the Lima State Hospital for observation when he appeared before Common Pleas Judge George N. Graham.

Putman said the 6-foot-2, 237-pound ex-convict had signed a 63-page typewritten statement admitting that the strangled Mrs. Juanita Baxter Rutledge, 58, on Aug. 25.

Mrs. Rutledge was found in an upstairs bedroom at her home in Minerva Aug. 29 after neighbors reported her front porch was cluttered with newspapers and mail. She had been strangled with a necktie and her feet were bound with a belt.

Her son was arrested Sunday at a tavern in Chicago. Police there quoted him as saying he blacked out after an argument with his widowed mother in her home. He said the argument resulted from his courtship of a woman he had met through a lonely hearts club.

Firestone Income Down

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A nine-month net income of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. to July 31 was $35,118,046, or $4.16 a share, the company said Wednesday. This was 21.2 per cent under the three quarters to July 31, 1957, when earnings were $44,583,808 or $5.40 a share. Sales were down 10.1 per cent — from $844,603,697 to $759,719,839.

Honor Society Elects Officers At Wells High

Officers were elected when the Nu Theta Chapter of the National Honor Society of Wells High School at Newell held its initial meeting of the term Monday in the school library.

Carla Grimm was named president; Lena Bowers, vice president; Judy Anderson, treasurer; Arlene Wurzel, representative to the Student Council, and Marilyn Gibas, reporter.

Miss Virginia Wehner and Miss Carolina Mountford are sponsors.

Jobless Benefit Claims In Ohio Drop By 12,517

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The number of Ohioans collecting unemployment benefits took an abrupt drop of 12,517 last week, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC) reported.

All of the drop was registered among those collecting regular benefits, from 136,507 the previous week ended last Saturday. During the week, 4,467 claimants exhausted their 26 - week period of regular benefits.

But, during the week, there was an increase of only 602 in the number collecting special benefits under the temporary program adopted by the Legislature. The total on the special rolls last week was 61,715.

The combined total of those collecting benefits — both regular and special — stood last Saturday at 185,093 compared with 197,610 at the end of the previous week.

Several sizable drops in those receiving regular benefits were recorded in major employment areas: Cleveland, nearly 5,000; Akron, nearly 1,000; Canton, more than 600; Dayton, nearly 1,500.

New claims last week for regular benefits numbered 14,287, an increase of 1,000 above the previous week, but still at least 2,500 below the weekly average of the last month.

Up-To-Date Suggestion

Vandiver Easily Wins Governor Bid In Georgia

ATLANTA (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ernest Vandiver won a landslide victory Wednesday in his nomination for governor in Georgia's Democratic primary.

Vandiver, a 40-year-old farmer from Lavonia, overwhelmingly defeated his two opponents in the popular vote.

Nomination in the Democratic primary is equivalent to election.

Vandiver declared himself an adamant segregationist and vowed he would never allow the races to mix in Georgia.

Gov. Marvin Griffin was ineligible to run again under a law limiting the executive to one four-year term. Vandiver takes office in January.

Four Georgia congressmen apparently overrode opposition for renomination, and six others won renomination without opposition.

ance, nor the possibility of it, constitutes sufficent cause to nullify the federal court orders directing the school board to proceed with its desegregation plan.

2. The case "involves not only the vindication of the constitutional rights declared in Brown (the 1954 Supreme Court decision declaring segregation because of race unconstitutional) but the very survival of the rule of law. This case affords this court an opportunity to restate in unmistakable terms both the urgency of proceeding with desegregation and the supremacy of all constituional rights over the big and small.

ance, nor the possibility of it, constitutes sufficent cause to nullify the federal court orders directing the school board to proceed with its desegregation plan.

2. The case "involves not only the vindication of the constitutional rights declared in Brown (the 1954 Supreme Court decision declaring segregation because of race unconstitutional) but the very survival of the rule of law. This case affords this court an opportunity to restate in unmistakable terms both the urgency of proceeding with desegregation and the supremacy of all constitutional rights over the big and small.

Air Force Approves Trial By Japanese

TOKYO (AP) — Jaapnese police began questioning A.3.C. Peter E. Longpre today after the U.S. Air Force ruled Japan can try him for fatally shooting a Japanese youth.

The police questioning will determine whether the 19-year-old airman from Lakewood, Calif., will be indicted. As a minor under Japanese law, he could be turned over to a family court, which assigns less severe penalties than the criminal courts.

While on guard duty last Sunday at Johnson Air Base, 20 miles northwest of Tokyo, Longpre fired his carbine. The bullet went through the window of a train 300 yards away, hitting Sachiywki Miyamura in the back.

The Air Force said an intensive investigation "clearly shows that the shooting occurred when Airman Longpre was not actively engaged in guard duty and, while apparently accidental, came about because Airman Longpre violated his instructions in the unauthorized loading and use of his weapon.

"Under these circumstances, the administrative agreement between the United States of America and Japan governing jurisdiction leaves no alternative but to allow the Japanese to exercise their right to primary jurisdiction."

Longpre described the shooting as "a horrible mistake." His defense counsel, 1st Lt. Hugh R. Braun of Athens, Wis., said Longpre did not contest being turned over to Japanese authorities.

OSES Program 'Catching On'

District Firms Turning More To Job Testing

Aptitude and proficiency testing is playing a major role among many district employers taking on new workers during the "Hire Now!" campaign being conducted by the Ohio State Employment Service.

Harry L. Dinsmore, OSES manager, said more employers are taking advantage of the service with the National Church Supply Co. of Chester hiring only tested applicants.

Other employers are submitting individual orders for screened applicants, Dinsmore said.

Shown here is part of the testing program. Taking one of the aptitude tests are Lloyd Jones, Bernadine Craig, Mrs. Esther Shenton, Etta Mae Robinson and Connie Evans. Standing at the rear are Miss Mary Jane Ready, test technician; Vern Jones, controller, and Charles Taylor, president and general manager, of National Church Supply.

Commenting on the testing program, Taylor said it is a "major improvement" in hiring workers. He said he is "sold" on the testing, pointing out he can hire workers better suited to his firm's needs and has practically eliminated turnover.

The testing program was started here in February 1956 and includes both aptitude and proficiency tests. The aptitude tests include seven written and two dexterity tests while the proficiency tests covers stenography, typing and spelling, Dinsmore explained.

Not all job applicants are tested, he pointed out. It generally is confined to those who recently completed schooling and have not developed skills or those who are changing their occupations and are tested to determine their potential for other openings.

Wife Killer Traces Route

Sewickley Man Had Been At Lisbon

Chester Mauchline, 47, of Sewickley, admitted wife slayer who surrendered himself to Chicago police Tuesday, is being returned to Pittsburgh today to face a murder charge.

Mauchline, who disappeared before the decomposed body of his wife, Elizabeth, was found last week along the Cliff Mine-Coraopolis Rd., gave himself up at Chicago, saying, "I'm tired of running away."

He signed a statement at Chicago Wednesday, admitting he killed his wife, 43, in a drunken fight near their home at Sewickley Aug. 23.

Mauchline, according to police, said he left Sewickley Aug. 24, driving to Washington, then to Lisbon, Minerva and Canton. He abandoned his car and went by bus to Chicago.

Police said Mauchline agreed to waive extradition and was to be returned today by two Allegheny County detectives and Assistant District Atty. Samuel Strauss.

A formal charge of murder has been filed against Mauchline, but an autopsy on Mrs. Mauchline's body failed to determine the cause of death because of the advanced state of decomposition.

Cerebral Palsy Types Explained To Parent Group

Causes and types of cerebral palsy were explained by Dr. Alex Fisher Wednesday night for the parental group of the Columbiana County United Cerebral Palsy Association in the clinic rooms at the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Head of the Medical Advisory Board of the local affiliate, Dr. Fisher also stressed the parents' attitude in the long - range therapy for afflicted children.

Dr. Fisher pointed out the afflicted children should be treated in the home as a normal child. A question - and - answer session followed.

Guests were Mrs. Harold Peters of Newell and Mrs. Fred Wagner.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Clara Morgan and Mrs. Marilyn Wagner.

Kenneth Smith of Salem, a rehabilitated cerebral palsy victim, will speak at the business meeting Sept. 24. He is a graduate of Salem High School and of Kent State University, where he majored on sociology. He also studied psychology at Youngstown University.

He is a case worker for the County Welfare Department.

Kaycee Council Completes Plans For Youth Fund Drive

Arrangements for the opening of the annual Ohio Knights of Columbus Youth Fund drive Sunday were completed at the meeting of the Carroll Council 509 Tuesday in the Kaycee Home.

The drive will open at a district meeting in the Steubenville K. of C. Hall at 2 p. m.

Local representatives will include James McGowan, district deputy; James Buchheit, grand knight; Ralph Yanni, past grand knight, and Joseph Burcham, chairman of the local Youth Fund committee.

A special meeting of the council will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. and members of the Columbian Squires Circle will attend. The East Liverpool High School football coaching staff headed by Lou Venditti will be guests. Lunch will be served.

Plans were made for the observance of Columbus Day Oct. 12. A program will be heard over WOHI in the afternoon. This will be a district affair with McGowan in charge.

That morning, a father-son Communion breakfast will be held in St. Aloysius School when members of the council, Squires and sons of the members will be guests. John Sachs is chairman of this phase of the observance.

The annual meeting of the Carroll Club, Inc., followed with Harold McNicol, president, presiding.

Trustees were elected for one year included McNicol, Buchheit, Robert Barker, Thomas Streicher, Edward McCormack, Samuel Scafide, John Connelly, Charles Geon and Bernard Allison.

Fr. Thomas Mulhearn, council chaplain, spoke briefly regarding the proper observance of Columbus Day.

There will be no Tuesday meeting of the council next week.

Tokyo Police Quiz U.S. Flier

Air Force Approves Trial By Japanese

TOKYO (AP) — Jaapnese police began questioning A.3.C. Peter E. Longpre today after the U.S. Air Force ruled Japan can try him for fatally shooting a Japanese youth.

The police questioning will determine whether the 19-year-old airman from Lakewood, Calif., will be indicted. As a minor under Japanese law, he could be turned over to a family court, which assigns less severe penalties than the criminal courts.

While on guard duty last Sunday at Johnson Air Base, 20 miles northwest of Tokyo, Longpre fired his carbine. The bullet went through the window of a train 300 yards away, hitting Sachiywki Miyamura in the back.

The Air Force said an intensive investigation "clearly shows that the shooting occurred when Airman Longpre was not actively engaged in guard duty and, while apparently accidental, came about because Airman Longpre violated his instructions in the unauthorized loading and use of his weapon.

"Under these circumstances, the administrative agreement between the United States of America and Japan governing jurisdiction leaves no alternative but to allow the Japanese to exercise their right to primary jurisdiction."

Longpre described the shooting as "a horrible mistake." His defense counsel, 1st Lt. Hugh R. Braun of Athens, Wis., said Longpre did not contest being turned over to Japanese authorities.

OSES Program 'Catching On'

District Firms Turning More To Job Testing

Aptitude and proficiency testing is playing a major role among many district employers taking on new workers during the "Hire Now!" campaign being conducted by the Ohio State Employment Service.

Harry L. Dinsmore, OSES manager, said more employers are taking advantage of the service with the National Church Supply Co. of Chester hiring only tested applicants.

Other employers are submitting individual orders for screened applicants, Dinsmore said.

Shown here is part of the testing program. Taking one of the aptitude tests are Lloyd Jones, Bernadine Craig, Mrs. Esther Shenton, Etta Mae Robinson and Connie Evans. Standing at the rear are Miss Mary Jane Ready, test technician; Vern Jones, controller, and Charles Taylor, president and general manager, of National Church Supply.

Commenting on the testing program, Taylor said it is a "major improvement" in hiring workers. He said he is "sold" on the testing, pointing out he can hire workers better suited to his firm's needs and has practically eliminated turnover.

The testing program was started here in February 1956 and includes both aptitude and proficiency tests. The aptitude tests include seven written and two dexterity tests while the proficiency tests covers stenography, typing and spelling, Dinsmore explained.

Not all job applicants are tested, he pointed out. It generally is confined to those who recently completed schooling and have not developed skills or those who are changing their occupations and are tested to determine their potential for other openings.

Kaycee Council Completes Plans For Youth Fund Drive

Arrangements for the opening of the annual Ohio Knights of Columbus Youth Fund drive Sunday were completed at the meeting of the Carroll Council 509 Tuesday in the Kaycee Home.

The drive will open at a district meeting in the Steubenville K. of C. Hall at 2 p. m.

Local representatives will include James McGowan, district deputy; James Buchheit, grand knight; Ralph Yanni, past grand knight, and Joseph Burcham, chairman of the local Youth Fund committee.

A special meeting of the council will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. and members of the Columbian Squires Circle will attend. The East Liverpool High School football coaching staff headed by Lou Venditti will be guests. Lunch will be served.

Plans were made for the observance of Columbus Day Oct. 12. A program will be heard over WOHI in the afternoon. This will be a district affair with McGowan in charge.

That morning, a father-son Communion breakfast will be held in St. Aloysius School when members of the council, Squires and sons of the members will be guests. John Sachs is chairman of this phase of the observance.

The annual meeting of the Carroll Club, Inc., followed with Harold McNicol, president, presiding.

Trustees were elected for one year included McNicol, Buchheit, Robert Barker, Thomas Streicher, Edward McCormack, Samuel Scafide, John Connelly, Charles Geon and Bernard Allison.

Fr. Thomas Mulhearn, council chaplain, spoke briefly regarding the proper observance of Columbus Day.

There will be no Tuesday meeting of the council next week.

Wife Killer Traces Route

Sewickley Man Had Been At Lisbon

Chester Mauchline, 47, of Sewickley, admitted wife slayer who surrendered himself to Chicago police Tuesday, is being returned to Pittsburgh today to face a murder charge.

Mauchline, who disappeared before the decomposed body of his wife, Elizabeth, was found last week along the Cliff Mine-Coraopolis Rd., gave himself up at Chicago, saying, "I'm tired of running away."

He signed a statement at Chicago Wednesday, admitting he killed his wife, 43, in a drunken fight near their home at Sewickley Aug. 23.

Mauchline, according to police, said he left Sewickley Aug. 24, driving to Washington, then to Lisbon, Minerva and Canton. He abandoned his car and went by bus to Chicago.

Police said Mauchline agreed to waive extradition and was to be returned today by two Allegheny County detectives and Assistant District Atty. Samuel Strauss.

A formal charge of murder has been filed against Mauchline, but an autopsy on Mrs. Mauchline's body failed to determine the cause of death because of the advanced state of decomposition.

Chairmen Named By Mothers Group

Akron St. Vincent Will Be Real Test In Potters' Opener

Visitors Will Be Heavy And Experienced

Coach Lou Venditti's Potters will face an acid test in their opening game of the 1958 football season Friday night against Akron St. Vincent—a newcomer on East Liverpool's schedule.

The kickoff will be at 7:45.

The Akronites appear headed for a good season, with 13 returning lettermen, including six regulars, back from last year's team which compiled a 5-4 record—not especially outstanding, but the last three victories came in succession.

The Potters will be considerably outweighed on the line as St. Vincent has several starters who hit the 200-pound mark.

Halfback Steve Barrish looms as the man the Potters must stop to come up with an opening game victory. He is fast, experienced and an elusive runner. But the remainder of the backfield can't be overlooked either.

Going at the other halfback for St. Vincent will be Rock Franks. Dan Pappano, said to be a speedster, will run from the fullback slot.

Joe Mackey, who earned a letter last year as an end, probably will start at quarterback and has been termed a "fair" passer.

St. Vincent's line figures to pack plenty of heft in Larry Zino, 195-pound center, and Jerry White and Chuck Pettit, a pair of tackles who scale at least 200 pounds.

Dave George and Ray Fitz, both 170, will go at the guard spots.

The visitors, who will operate from the standard T-formation, have a veteran coach in Eddie Wentz, in his 35th year at the St. Vincent helm. Wentz is rated eighth in the nation in the list of coaches who have been with the same school 30 years or more.

Potters Are Set For Opening Test

By CHUCK CRONIN

It looks as if juniors and sophomores again will play a major role in the football picture this season at East Liverpool High School.

With only eight lettermen — two of them offensive regulars in 1957 —back to form a nucleus, Coach Lou Venditti's charges may find a rocky road awaiting them when they embark on a tough schedule beginning Friday night at Patterson Field with Akron St. Vincent.

Venditti is confident a strong first team can be fielded, but fears lack of depth will hurt, especially if injuries crop up at key spots.

LAST YEAR'S team compiled a season record of three wins, six defeats and a tie with Toronto and many gridders who performed well were expected to return again this year to provide the squad with adequate depth and experience.

But 14 promising sophomores and juniors decided to give up the game. This, along with graduation which took a dozen from the roster including All-Ohio George Hale, thoroughly disposed of Venditti's hoped for reserve strength.

Hale, naturally, will be the most sorely missed. He led last year's Potters in virtually every department while scoring 81 points and gaining 1,090 yards.

The shifty halfback, headed for Ohio State, also led the team in passing with 216 yards and was a demon on defense where he held down a linebacker spot.

—:—

AN EARLY season shoulder injury to rugged guard Nick Musuraca has added to Venditti's woes.

Musuraca, the sparkplug of the Potter defense, is listed a doubtful starter for Friday night's game with St. Vincent. And "he could possibly make the difference," Venditti commented.

The backfield for the opener probably will read Bob Mackall at quarterback, Dave Zelch and Dave Goodballet at the halves and Bill O'Neil at fullback.

Mackall, 155-pound junior, fired 35 passes last year and hit on 11 for 181 yards and is expected to be more improved this year. He is also improving his running game and should develop quickly once the season gets rolling.

O'Neil, 170-pound fullback who was out most of last year with injuries, will be the workhorse of the backfield and has been looking "really great" in practice sessions, Venditti said.

O'Neil should be a constant threat to opponents when the Potters need scant yardage by virtue of driving bursts from his fullback spot. He gained 385 yards last year in 79 carries for a 4.8 average.

—:—

ZELCH AND Goodballet, who both weigh about 165, are developing into creditable halfbacks and should do well in the scoring department.

Halfback Joe Thompson, a Westgate product, is also scheduled to see lots of action with the offensive unit, Venditti said, along with Henry Roach, 155-pound junior fullback, and Ken Cunningham, a 140-pounder, who is Mackall's understudy at the quarterback slot.

Venditti is "well pleased" with the team's running game and fans may see a few surprises in Friday night's rugged opener, he indicated.

With Musuraca out with an injury, the line situation is not as bright, but the performances of several juniors have been encouraging.

The end situation is probably the best of any position, Venditti said, and pointed to Ron Prince, 165-pound junior, and Pat Cooper, 160-pound senior, as likely starters at terminals for the opener.

MIKE KAPP, 185 - pounder, and Carl Ludwig, 180-pound senior, or Jim Clunk, 185-pound senior will probably go at the tackle slots while Ravanna Bell, 155-pound senior, and Jim Bise, 160-pound junior, will hold down the guard positions.

Charlie Barnhouse, 170-pound junior, is the leading candidate for center and will probably start with the offensive unit. Craig Burbick, who performed at quarterback last year, will play defensive linebacker. He scales about 185 and is a junior. Craig has been on the ailing list and will not be in top form tomorrow.

Skip Hall, 180-pound sophomore, has been looking good in practice and will go at defensive end with Ludwig, Venditti said. Charlie Davidson will rotate at guard with Bell.

Anticipating a heavy barrage from St. Vincent, Venditti said the team has been working hard on pass defense and added that "if they win the game on passes, it won't be because we didn't prepare for it."

The squad's spirit leaves little to be desired and should make up for any bad breaks which may come along, Venditti ventured. He said the squad should be in top physical condition.

East Liverpool's schedule, which seems to grow tougher each year, includes real powerhouses this season in Toledo Libbey, the second game, and Youngstown Rayen and Warren, not to mention Steubenville Central Catholic and Alliance.

Warren Harding, which posted a 9-1 record last year after losing only to Canton McKinley, Akron St. Vincent and Toledo Libbey, are the new foes.

Seniors who graduated besides Hale included Jim Zelch, Ed Lincoln, Dennis O'Farrell, Tom Bryan, Art Peters, Bill Boso, Gary Hill, Hush Dawson, Jim Kapp, John Mathias and Dan Murtaugh.

Venditti's assistants this year are Nunzio Polichene, new line coach who succeeded Carl Pelini; Rey Peduzzi, and Bob Hedmond, backfield coach.

Dark, Tebbetts Seen Most Likely As Cards' Pilot

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Alvin Dark and Birdie Tebbetts seem to be the most likely candidates to replace Fred Hutchinson, under fire as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Reports that Hutchinson, along with all the Cardinals coaches, would be fired continued to mount despite denials.

Cardinal executives, including President August A. Busch, have repeatedly said no decision about a manager will be made until the season is over. But only Wednesday in New York, Dick Meyer said, "Frankly things don't look too good for Hutchinson right now."

Tebbetts, who recently quit as manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, has talked with Cardinal officials. Meyer said he had talked to Tebbetts "but not about a managerial job." He did not elaborate.

Dark was traded by the Cardinals to the Cubs for pitcher Jim Brosnan early in the season. It is reported that when with the Redbirds he impressed team officials as possible manager material.

FIGHT RESULTS

By The Associated Press

Chicago — Ralph Jones, 155½, Yonkers, N. Y., stopped Mickey Crawford, 154, Saginaw, Mich., 10.

Webb, Fullmer Tangle Tonight In 10-Rounder

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Spider Webb of Chicago and ex-champion Gene Fullmer match wits and fists in a 10-round middleweight bout here tonight (9 p.m. MST).

Both expect to weigh slightly less than the 160-pound limit.

Fullmer, who held the middleweight title briefly in 1957, was rated only an even match for the heavier - punching Webb, twice NCAA champion at Idaho State College.

Fullmer is the number two middleweight contender. The fight against Webb marks his first bigtime competition since he lost the title to Sugar Ray Robinson more than 18 months ago.

Fullmer, from nearby West Jordan, Utah, has a 49-4 record.

Webb is rated fourth by Ring magazine and seventh by the National Boxing Assn.

Webb, 29-3 in his career, won four this year and was upset by Holly Mims.

Rams Place Tackle Woidzik On Waivers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams have placed tackle Frank Woidzik of the University of Buffalo on waivers. He was their fifth draft choice this year.

The Rams now are down to 43 players. They must trim to 35 by Sept. 23. Clendon Thomas, rookie halfback hurt in the All-Star game at Chicago, is being carried on the injured reserve list.

West Virginia Man NBA'S New President

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The new president of the National Boxing Assn. is Dr. Ward Wylie of Mullens, W. Va.

Elected Wednesday as the NBA concluded its convention, he succeeds Gilbert Jackson, Racine, Wis. Jackson was elected treasurer. Abe J. Greene, Paterson, N.J., was re-elected national commissioner.

Palmer Says 271 To 273 Ought To Win Denver Open

DENVER (AP) — The PGA's leading money winner so far this year, Arnold Palmer from Latrobe, Pa., says a score of 271 to 273 should be enough to pick up the $2,000 first prize in the $20,000 Denver Open Centennial tournament beginning today.

The 72-hole medal play event will wind up Sunday.

"The greens are excellent, but the pins are in tough spots," Palmer said after a practice round in 70 strokes. He is this year's Masters Tournament champion and has collected $39,827 since the first of the year.

The first major PGA tournament in Denver in 10 years has galleryites about evenly divided between Palmer and Dow Finsterwald, National PGA champion from Tequesta, Fla., for the choice of favorite.

Yesterday's STARS

Pitching—Juan Pizarro, Braves, gained his first shutout in the majors with a three-hitter that beat the Redlegs 3-0. He walked four, struck out eight.

Hitting — Clint Courtney, Senators, drove in four runs in 5-4 victory over the Tigers, counting the clincher with a two-run homer in the eighth inning.

American Vitrified Beats Lisbon VFW, 7-1

Johnny Clendenning hurled a three-hitter and Al Dawson banged a triple, two doubles and a single for a perfect night at the plate as American Vitrified Products defeated Lisbon VFW, 7—1, Wednesday at Lisbon.

Don Black and Joe Anderson each had two safeties for the winners who play again today at Lisbon.

Wolfpack Newcomers

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Halfbacks Claude Gibson of Asheville, N. C., and Jim D'Antonio of Aliquippa, Pa., rate as two of the most promising sophomore backs in the Wolfpack camp. Both were stars as North Carolina State freshmen and impressed in spring drills.

Bengals Will Face Veteran Fitch Eleven

Austintown Fitch will bring a veteran backfield and a host of returning lettermen to Nicholson Stadium Friday night for its game against Wellsville High.

The kickoff will be at 8.

This will be the Bengals' first appearance against the Youngstown area squad, which last year won five and lost four. From that winning team, 14 letter winners are back, seven of whom saw action as regulars last year.

Fitch's coach, Frank Harbolo, beginning his second season as head mentor, reports that his hopes for an improved season are pinned on senior quarterback Jim Puntuti, who begins his third year as a starter on the club. The 6-foot, 185-pound back is considered a strong offensive threat, both as a runner and passer. He also handles the team's kicking chores.

Fitch, which last year won its first three games and then lost four in a row after being hard hit by the flu, will field essentially the same backfield as last year. The only change is senior Bill Martin, 175 pounds, who was converted to the left halfback slot from an end position.

A junior, Dick Pantloni, called a "determined blocker" by Harbolo, will be at the other half and senior Ralph Roberts, a highly respected 145-pounder who moves well and hits hard, will be at fullback.

Though considered an average-sized club in the Steel Valley League, Austintown will field a hefty line. A pair of 200-pounders, Lou Doria and Roger Harrell, will start at the tackles.

Three seniors, Bill Crawford, 165 pounds, Hack Delmark, 175 pounds, and Bill Schaffer, 175 pounds, will alternate at the guards. Delmark, who sustained an injury in practice, remains a doubtful starter.

A newcomer to the squad, senior Tom Getch, a 6-foot, 3-inch 180-pounder, will start at one end. At the other end will be veteran Bill Rigley, a 165-pounder who moves well.

At the pivot, Paul Cercel, 190 pounds, will be the starter, with Ray McNeal, 175 pounds, his replacement.

Coach Ken Woods of Wellsville says he has worked hard on defense this week, stressing that his boys "be more cautious to the outside." The Bengals were particularly vulnerable to end sweeps by the Potters in last Friday's preview.

Wood will be going with the same starters used in the preview against East Liverpool.

Sophomore Bob Kiggans, who showed promise in the preview, will start at quarterback. Jim Stevens and John Euill will be at the halfbacks. Pat Creaturo, a 120-pound junior, will be used frequently as a replacement at halfback.

On the line, Bob Brown and Martin Stempler will be the starters at end. Guards will be Eddie Stone and Dick Kountz and tackles Leonard Cuti and Ralph Wagner. Phil Baldwin will be at center.

Outfielder Leon Wagner of the San Francisco Giants smashed 51 home runs for Danville, Va., in 1956.

Can Feed Myself Now, Campanella Says Jubilantly

NEW YORK (AP) — "Now I can touch any part of my body. I can feed myself. Maybe it doesn't sound like so much, but to me it is wonderful."

Roy Campanella smiled and raised his right hand toward the collar brace that held him erect in the wheelchair. The hospital room was jammed with reporters for the first full scale news conference since Roy's near-fatal accident Jan. 28.

"I've been in a cast since after I slid off the road and hit that pole. I thought I'd turn the engine off. That's when I found out I was paralyzed.

"Then on the second day I came down with bronchial pneumonia and I couldn't breathe. They had to lance my throat and put a tube in.

"I didn't think I'd make it that night. I really prayed. There I was paralyzed and couldn't breathe. It was a pretty tough feeling. It's wonderful to know how much I've improved."

Friend's Wife Shares Happiness Of Buc Twirler

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Friend's wife, Pat, cried Wednesday night. But her tears were tears of happiness.

She shared the joy of her husband who became the first Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher since 1951 to win 20 games in one season and the first National League pitcher to accomplish the feat this year.

The right-hander, who broke into the majors in 1951 with the Pirates and whose best previous year was 1956 when he won 17, beat the San Francisco Giants 6-4 in 10 innings after a shaky start.

"It was the greatest thrill of my career, a milestone in my life," Friend said in the dressing room.

Friend allowed the Giants 12 hits, half of them coming in the first three innings. One of the hits was a two-run homer by Daryl Spencer in the third inning.

High School Elevens Wait 1958 Openers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 27,000 helmeted and cleated kids start battling this weekend for Ohio's 1958 high school football championship.

Strung along the far-flung front are 605 teams playing the 11-man game, and 43 others featuring six man football. A year ago 27,098 boys were on the gridiron rosters, and the figure is up this season due to newly-consolidated schools taking up the game.

H. W. Emswiler, who retires Nov. 1 as state high school athletic commissioner, is unperturbed by the opening blast. He's fishing in Canada.

But W. J. McConnell, assistant commissioner who takes over as "Emmy" departs, declared:

"This looks like a very interesting season. Coaching changes, especially among the stronger schools, have been numerous. The new point after touchdown rule is certain to add many new thrills. The new blocking rule could bring up some interesting situations. There will be new faces, new stars. This could be one of our greatest years."

McConnell said his office is flooded with eligibility questions, and that "everyone wants an answer by Friday."

"The questions center around transfer students, age limits, work taken during the summer by those on the scholastic edge, and many other things," McConnell said, "but we'll have 'em ironed out by kickoff time Friday night."

Cleveland Benedictine, the 1957 state champion and first team outside Stark County to take the title in 10 campaigns, opens against Cleveland St. Edward.

Canton McKinley, king the previous two years, has a new coach at the helm in Jimmy Robinson, as the Bulldogs entertain Akron Buchtel. Robinson transferred from Canton Lehman as Wade Watts resigned.

Massillon, holder of the crown for seven straight seasons prior to McKinley's reign, also has a new mentor in Leo Strang, last year at East Cleveland Shaw. The Massillons, second to Benedictine in last season's Associated Press poll, have Akron South as their opening foe.

Warren, beaten only by Massillon last year in a game featured by a faulty clock, could be in for its finest year under Gene Slaughter, the 1957 coach of the year. Gene's Panthers are hosts to Cleveland Collinwood in the Friday inaugural.

Among the other top-flight opening contests this weekend are:

Dark, Tebbetts Seen Most Likely As Cards' Pilot

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Alvin Dark and Birdie Tebbetts seem to be the most likely candidates to replace Fred Hutchinson, under fire as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Reports that Hutchinson, along with all the Cardinals coaches, would be fired continued to mount despite denials.

Cardinal executives, including President August A. Busch, have repeatedly said no decision about a manager will be made until the season is over. But only Wednesday in New York, Dick Meyer said, "Frankly things don't look too good for Hutchinson right now."

Tebbetts, who recently quit as manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, has talked with Cardinal officials. Meyer said he had talked to Tebbetts "but not about a managerial job." He did not elaborate.

Dark was traded by the Cardinals to the Cubs for pitcher Jim Brosnan early in the season. It is reported that when with the Redbirds he impressed team officials as possible manager material.

Chicago — Ralph Jones, 155½, Yonkers, N. Y., stopped Mickey Crawford, 154, Saginaw, Mich., 10.

Webb, Fullmer Tangle Tonight In 10-Rounder

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Spider Webb of Chicago and ex-champion Gene Fullmer match wits and fists in a 10-round middleweight bout here tonight (9 p.m. MST).

Both expect to weigh slightly less than the 160-pound limit.

Fullmer, who held the middleweight title briefly in 1957, was rated only an even match for the heavier - punching Webb, twice NCAA champion at Idaho State College.

Fullmer is the number two middleweight contender. The fight against Webb marks his first big-time competition since he lost the title to Sugar Ray Robinson more than 18 months ago.

Fullmer, from nearby West Jordan, Utah, has a 49-4 record.

Webb is rated fourth by Ring magazine and seventh by the National Boxing Assn.

Webb, 29-3 in his career, won four this year and was upset by Holly Mims.

Palmer Says 271 To 273 Ought To Win Denver Open

DENVER (AP) — The PGA's leading money winner so far this year, Arnold Palmer from Latrobe, Pa., says a score of 271 to 273 should be enough to pick up the $2,000 first prize in the $20,000 Denver Open Centennial tournament beginning today.

The 72-hole medal play event will wind up Sunday.

"The greens are excellent, but the pins are in tough spots," Palmer said after a practice round in 70 strokes. He is this year's Masters Tournament champion and has collected $39,827 since the first of the year.

The first major PGA tournament in Denver in 10 years has galleryites about evenly divided between Palmer and Dow Finsterwald, National PGA champion from Tequesta, Fla., for the choice of favorite.

Yesterday's STARS

Pitching—Juan Pizarro, Braves, gained his first shutout in the majors with a three-hitter that beat the Redlegs 3-0. He walked four, struck out eight.

Hitting — Clint Courtney, Senators, drove in four runs in 5-4 victory over the Tigers, counting the clincher with a two-run homer in the eighth inning.

American Vitrified Beats Lisbon VFW, 7-1

Johnny Clendenning hurled a three-hitter and Al Dawson banged a triple, two doubles and a single for a perfect night at the plate as American Vitrified Products defeated Lisbon VFW, 7—1, Wednesday at Lisbon.

Don Black and Joe Anderson each had two safeties for the winners who play again today at Lisbon.

Wolfpack Newcomers

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Halfbacks Claude Gibson of Asheville, N. C., and Jim D'Antonio of Aliquippa, Pa., rate as two of the most promising sophomore backs in the Wolfpack camp. Both were stars as North Carolina State freshmen and impressed in spring drills.

Rams Place Tackle Woidzik On Waivers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams have placed tackle Frank Woidzik of the University of Buffalo on waivers. He was their fifth draft choice this year.

The Rams now are down to 43 players. They must trim to 35 by Sept. 23. Clendon Thomas, rookie halfback hurt in the All-Star game at Chicago, is being carried on the injured reserve list.

West Virginia Man NBA'S New President

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The new president of the National Boxing Assn. is Dr. Ward Wylie of Mullens, W. Va.

Elected Wednesday as the NBA concluded its convention, he succeeds Gilbert Jackson, Racine, Wis. Jackson was elected treasurer. Abe J. Greene, Paterson, N.J., was re-elected national commissioner.

Potters Are Set For Opening Test

By CHUCK CRONIN

It looks as if juniors and sophomores again will play a major role in the football picture this season at East Liverpool High School.

With only eight lettermen — two of them offensive regulars in 1957—back to form a nucleus, Coach Lou Venditti's charges may find a rocky road awaiting them when they embark on a tough schedule beginning Friday night at Patterson Field with Akron St. Vincent.

Venditti is confident a strong first team can be fielded, but fears lack of depth will hurt, especially if injuries crop up at key spots.

LAST YEAR'S team compiled a season record of three wins, six defeats and a tie with Toronto and many gridders who performed well were expected to return again this year to provide the squad with adequate depth and experience.

But 14 promising sophomores and juniors decided to give up the game. This, along with graduation which took a dozen from the roster including All-Ohio George Hale, thoroughly disposed of Venditti's hoped for reserve strength.

Hale, naturally, will be the most sorely missed. He led last year's Potters in virtually every department while scoring 81 points and gaining 1,090 yards.

The shifty halfback, headed for Ohio State, also led the team in passing with 216 yards and was a demon on defense where he held down a linebacker spot.

—:—

AN EARLY season shoulder injury to rugged guard Nick Musuraca has added to Venditti's woes.

Musuraca, the sparkplug of the Potter defense, is listed a doubtful starter for Friday night's game with St. Vincent. And "he could possibly make the difference," Venditti commented.

The backfield for the opener probably will read Bob Mackall at quarterback, Dave Zelch and Dave Goodballet at the halves and Bill O'Neil at fullback.

Mackall, 155-pound junior, fired 35 passes last year and hit on 11 for 181 yards and is expected to be more improved this year. He is also improving his running game and should develop quickly once the season gets rolling.

O'Neil, 170-pound fullback who was out most of last year with injuries, will be the workhorse of the backfield and has been looking "really great" in practice sessions, Venditti said.

O'Neil should be a constant threat to opponents when the Potters need scant yardage by virtue of driving bursts from his fullback spot. He gained 385 yards last year in 79 carries for a 4.8 average.

ZELCH AND Goodballet, who both weigh about 165, are developing into creditable halfbacks and should do well in the scoring department.

Halfback Joe Thompson, a Westgate product, is also scheduled to see lots of action with the offensive unit, Venditti said, along with Henry Roach, 155-pound junior fullback, and Ken Cunningham, a 140-pounder, who is Mackall's understudy at the quarterback slot.

Venditti is "well pleased" with the team's running game and fans may see a few surprises in Friday night's rugged opener, he indicated.

With Musuraca out with an injury, the line situation is not as bright, but the performances of several juniors have been encouraging.

The end situation is probably the best of any position, Venditti said, and pointed to Ron Prince, 165-pound junior, and Pat Cooper, 160-pound senior, as likely starters at terminals for the opener.

MIKE KAPP, 185 - pounder, and Carl Ludwig, 180-pound senior, or Jim Clunk, 185-pound senior will probably go at the tackle slots while Ravanna Bell, 155-pound senior, and Jim Bise, 160-pound junior, will hold down the guard positions.

Charlie Barnhouse, 170-pound junior, is the leading candidate for center and will probably start with the offensive unit. Craig Burbick, who performed at quarterback last year, will play defensive linebacker. He scales about 185 and is a junior. Craig has been on the ailing list and will not be in top form tomorrow.

Skip Hall, 180-pound sophomore, has been looking good in practice and will go at defensive end with Ludwig, Venditti said. Charlie Davidson will rotate at guard with Bell.

Anticipating a heavy barrage from St. Vincent, Venditti said the team has been working hard on pass defense and added that "if they win the game on passes, it won't be because we didn't prepare for it."

The squad's spirit leaves little to be desired and should make up for any bad breaks which may come along, Venditti ventured. He said the squad should be in top physical condition.

East Liverpool's schedule, which seems to grow tougher each year, includes real powerhouses this season in Toledo Libbey, the second game, and Youngstown Rayen and Warren, not to mention Steubenville Central Catholic and Alliance.

Warren Harding, which posted a 9-1 record last year after losing only to Canton McKinley, Akron St. Vincent and Toledo Libbey, are the new foes.

Seniors who graduated besides Hale included Jim Zelch, Ed Lincoln, Dennis O'Farrell, Tom Bryan, Art Peters, Bill Boso, Gary Hill, Hush Dawson, Jim Kapp, John Mathias and Dan Murtaugh.

Venditti's assistants this year are Nunzio Polichene, new line coach who succeeded Carl Pelini; Rey Peduzzi, and Bob Hedmond, backfield coach.

Can Feed Myself Now, Campanella Says Jubilantly

NEW YORK (AP) — "Now I can touch any part of my body. I can feed myself. Maybe it doesn't sound like so much, but to me it is wonderful."

Roy Campanella smiled and raised his right hand toward the collar brace that held him erect in the wheelchair. The hospital room was jammed with reporters for the first full scale news conference since Roy's near-fatal accident Jan. 28.

"I've been in a cast since after I slid off the road and hit that pole. I thought I'd turn the engine off. That's when I found out I was paralyzed.

"Then on the second day I came down with bronchial pneumonia and I couldn't breathe. They had to lance my throat and put a tube in.

"I didn't think I'd make it that night. I really prayed. There I was paralyzed and couldn't breathe. It was a pretty tough feeling. It's wonderful to know how much I've improved."

Bengals Will Face Veteran Fitch Eleven

Austintown Fitch will bring a veteran backfield and a host of returning lettermen to Nicholson Stadium Friday night for its game against Wellsville High.

The kickoff will be at 8.

This will be the Bengals' first appearance against the Youngstown area squad, which last year won five and lost four. From that winning team, 14 letter winners are back, seven of whom saw action as regulars last year.

Fitch's coach, Frank Harbolo, beginning his second season as head mentor, reports that his hopes for an improved season are pinned on senior quarterback Jim Puntuti, who begins his third year as a starter on the club. The 6-foot, 185-pound back is considered a strong offensive threat, both as a runner and passer. He also handles the team's kicking chores.

Fitch, which last year won its first three games and then lost four in a row after being hard hit by the flu, will field essentially the same backfield as last year. The only change is senior Bill Martin, 175 pounds, who was converted to the left halfback slot from an end position.

A junior, Dick Pantloni, called a "determined blocker" by Harbolo, will be at the other half and senior Ralph Roberts, a highly respected 145-pounder who moves well and hits hard, will be at fullback.

Though considered an average-sized club in the Steel Valley League, Austintown will field a hefty line. A pair of 200-pounders, Lou Doria and Roger Harrell, will start at the tackles.

Three seniors, Bill Crawford, 165 pounds, Hack Delmark, 175 pounds, and Bill Schaffer, 175 pounds, will alternate at the guards. Delmark, who sustained an injury in practice, remains a doubtful starter.

A newcomer to the squad, senior Tom Getch, a 6-foot, 3-inch 180-pounder, will start at one end. At the other end will be veteran Bill Rigley, a 165-pounder who moves well.

At the pivot, Paul Cercel, 190 pounds, will be the starter, with Ray McNeal, 175 pounds, his replacement.

Coach Ken Woods of Wellsville says he has worked hard on defense this week, stressing that his boys "be more cautious to the outside." The Bengals were particularly vulnerable to end sweeps by the Potters in last Friday's preview.

Wood will be going with the same starters used in the preview against East Liverpool.

Sophomore Bob Kiggans, who showed promise in the preview, will start at quarterback. Jim Stevens and John Euill will be at the halfbacks. Pat Creaturo, a 120-pound junior, will be used frequently as a replacement at halfback.

On the line, Bob Brown and Martin Stempler will be the starters at end. Guards will be Eddie Stone and Dick Kountz and tackles Leonard Cuti and Ralph Wagner. Phil Baldwin will be at center.

Outfielder Leon Wagner of the San Francisco Giants smashed 51 home runs for Danville, Va., in 1956.

Friend's Wife Shares Happiness Of Buc Twirler

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Friend's wife, Pat, cried Wednesday night. But her tears were tears of happiness.

She shared the joy of her husband who became the first Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher since 1951 to win 20 games in one season and the first National League pitcher to accomplish the feat this year.

The right-hander, who broke into the majors in 1951 with the Pirates and whose best previous year was 1956 when he won 17, beat the San Francisco Giants 6-4 in 10 innings after a shaky start.

"It was the greatest thrill of my career, a milestone in my life," Friend said in the dressing room.

Friend allowed the Giants 12 hits, half of them coming in the first three innings. One of the hits was a two-run homer by Daryl Spencer in the third inning.

High School Elevens Wait 1958 Openers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 27,000 helmeted and cleated kids start battling this weekend for Ohio's 1958 high school football championship.

Strung along the far-flung front are 605 teams playing the 11-man game, and 43 others featuring six man football. A year ago 27,098 boys were on the gridiron rosters, and the figure is up this season due to newly-consolidated schools taking up the game.

H. W. Emswiler, who retires Nov. 1 as state high school athletic commissioner, is unperturbed by the opening blast. He's fishing in Canada.

But W. J. McConnell, assistant commissioner who takes over as "Emmy" departs, declared:

"This looks like a very interesting season. Coaching changes, especially among the stronger schools, have been numerous. The new point after touchdown rule is certain to add many new thrills. The new blocking rule could bring up some interesting situations. There will be new faces, new stars. This could be one of our greatest years."

McConnell said his office is flooded with eligibility questions, and that "everyone wants an answer by Friday."

"The questions center around transfer students, age limits, work taken during the summer by those on the scholastic edge, and many other things," McConnell said, "but we'll have 'em ironed out by kickoff time Friday night."

Cleveland Benedictine, the 1957 state champion and first team outside Stark County to take the title in 10 campaigns, opens against Cleveland St. Edward.

Canton McKinley, king the previous two years, has a new coach at the helm in Jimmy Robinson, as the Bulldogs entertain Akron Buchtel. Robinson transferred from Canton Lehman as Wade Watts resigned.

Massillon, holder of the crown for seven straight seasons prior to McKinley's reign, also has a new mentor in Leo Strang, last year at East Cleveland Shaw. The Massillons, second to Benedictine in last season's Associated Press poll, have Akron South as their opening foe.

Warren, beaten only by Massillon last year in a game featured by a faulty clock, could be in for its finest year under Gene Slaughter, the 1957 coach of the year. Gene's Panthers are hosts to Cleveland Collinwood in the Friday inaugural.

Among the other top-flight opening contests this weekend are:

Friend First In National League To Win 20 This Season

Pirates Beat Giants, 6-4; Braves Win

By The Associated Press

The milestones of success have come hard for Bob Friend. But now he's passed another, finally becoming a 20-game winner with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In 1955, the big right - hander from Indiana led the National League with a 2.84 earned run average. That came hard. No other major league pitcher ever has won an ERA title with a last place club.

In 1956, Friend made the All-Star team for the first time. He started, and won. That came hard. Twenty-four hours earlier there was doubt that he'd even make the game, because of a sore throat.

Wednesday night, he became the first to win 20 in the NL this year.

Friend, 27, had to go 10 innings to get it, beating San Francisco 6-4 on Dick Stuart's two-out, two-run homer. The Giants tagged him for a dozen hits and three walks. But Friend, with his mates getting only three hits over the last eight innings, left 11 on base and blanked the Giants on four singles over the last five frames.

Friend hadn't won more than 17 in one season before with the Pirates—but they had finished last or next to last throughout that seven-year span.

The Bucs, who haven't been this high since 1944, now hold second place by 5½ games over the Giants with the three - game sweep. But the Milwaukee Braves 6½ games ahead, kept rolling toward a second straight pennant by beating Cincinnati 3-0 on Juan Pizarro's three-hitter.

St. Louis tied Cincinnati for fourth, beating the Chicago Cubs 3-1. Philadelphia knocked off Los Angeles 8-6.

Friend had a 4-1 lead after two innings. But it slipped away on Daryl Spencer's two-run homer in the third and Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly in the fifth.

Stuart's shot, his 15th, followed a two-out single by Roberto Clemente off loser Marv Grissom (7-5). Ray Monzant, lifted for a hitter in the 10th, had blanked the Bucs on one hit for 7 1-3 innings—an eighth-inning single by Clemente, whose RBI single capped the four-run second.

Pizarro (6-2), a 21-year - old southpaw, gave up only a pair of singles by Pete Whisenant and Johnny Temple's double while gaining his first major league shutout. The Braves beat Bob Purkey (16-10) with a fifth-inning run on Billy Bruton's bunt and a two-out single by Red Schoendienst while reducing their magic number to eight and eliminating the Reds officially.

A pair of errors helped the Cards in a winning, two-run fifth while Wilmer Mizell (10 - 11) breezed with a four-hitter. The Cubs scored in the eighth on a scoring single by Walt Moryn, who had half their hits. Taylor Phillips (7-9) was the loser.

The Phils, taking their 11-game home season series from the Dodgers for the first time since 1934, scored seven runs, three unearned, in three innings against loser Don Drysdale (11-13). Robin Roberts (15-13) won it with Don Erickson's ninth-inning relief. Carl Furillo and Frank Howard in his major league debut, homered for the Dodgers.

50,021 Watch Indians Lose

By The Associated Press

That "Back-the-Indians" drive paid off with a crowd of 50,021 and a touch of irony at Cleveland Wednesday night.

It was the Tribe's largest night game draw since 1954, the last year they won the American League pennant. But the Injuns came through with the same sort of play that has kept the folks away ever since, losing 8-3 to the New York Yankees. Two of their runs were unearned, and the third was hustled home on three walks and a hit batsman.

The Chicago White Sox, with nothing else to shoot for, padded their second place edge over Boston to 2½ games by beating the Red Sox 7-2. Washington knocked off Detroit 5-4 and Kansas City defeated Baltimore 4-2.

The Indians had seven hits, all singles off Rookie Zack Monroe (4-1), who was relieved by Ryne Duren and Art Ditmar. Elston Howard, Tony Kubek and Hank Bauer each drove in two runs for the Yankees as Don Mossi lost his eighth in 15 decisions.

Southpaw Billy Pierce allowed eight hits and won his 16th for the White Sox, his 150th victory in the majors. He also counted his 1,500th career strikeout, fanning leadoff man Don Buddin. The White Sox broke a 2-all tie with five runs in the eighth off reliever Murray Wall (7-9) with Al Smith hitting a two-run single and Pierce doubling two home.

Clint Courtney drove in four runs for the Senators, who were shut out on one hit by Paul Foytack (12-12) for five innings. Courtney's two-run double capped a three-run sixth, and his seventh homer was good for a clinching two runs in the eighth. Charlie Maxwell hit his third career grand slam homer in the third for the Tigers, who then were blanked by Russ Kemmerer and winning reliever Tex Clevenger (9-8).

Rookie Willie Tasby's first homer, a solo shot in the sixth, gave the Orioles a 2-1 lead at Kansas City. But a two-out error and Hector Lopez' 15th homer put it away for the A's in the eighth. Bob Grim (6-6) was the winner. Jack Harshman (11-13) lost it.

Membership Drive Begun By Beaver Local Boosters

Beaver Local High School Boosters Club completed plans for a membership drive and heard reports on the progress of the school's football team from Coach Jack O'Rourke when it met Tuesday night. Some 45 attended.

Miss Ruth Jenkins was named chairman of the membership campaign which opened Tuesday and will continue for the next 60 days. The Boosters are hoping to obtain 1,000 members and cards are now on sale at Calcutta, West Point, Elkton, Oak Grove and Rogers, Miss Jenkins said.

O'Rourke, a former Wellsville High School athlete, commended his 42-member football squad for fine work shown in practice drills thus far and reported that he looks for a much improved season record.

Other remarks on the progress of the Beavers were given by Bob Bush, assistant coach, Jack Frontone, athletic director, and Arthur Carlton, who is coach of the 91-member grade school grid squad.

The Beavers open the season Friday afternoon at Irondale at 3:30.

The club announced that 120 yards of fencing had been purchased and will be installed at the football field for the first home game.

Season tickets for the school's four home games may be purchased now at a cost of $2.25, the school's faculty manager said.

Foyn Wright reported that programs for the football games to be played at home are completed and will be on sale for the first home game, with Salineville, Sept. 27.

Other reports were given by Mrs. Gladys Smith, Mrs. Everett Hoppel and Leroy Singleton and George Nulf.

Mrs. Smith, chairman of the concession stand operated by the club at the Columbiana County fair at Lisbon, reported a total of $773 was realized, with bills yet to be paid. Mrs. Hoppel is chairman of the Tri-State Harvest Queen event scheduled for Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 at the high school.

Singleton gave a secretary's report and Nulf the treasury report. Tom Taylor announced that drivers are still needed for the bus which transports the football players home from practice in the evenings.

Taylor and Homer Bryant were appointed to serve on the Beaver Local High School Athletic Association.

George Wilkinson presided, and offered opening prayer. The next meeting will be Oct. 14 at 8 p. m.

Willie Just Misses

CHICAGO (AP) — Willie Shoemaker, the nation's top jockey this year, just missed making it four straight Washington Park Handicaps when Round Table finished second to Clem in the Labor Day race. Willie won the race with Jet Action in 1955, with Swaps in 1956 and with Pucker Up last year.

Texas Will See Red

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The University of Texas football team will see a lot of red this fall. All five home rivals — Georgia, Texas Tech, SMU, Arkansas and Texas Aggies — have red as one of their colors. Oklahoma, one of five road opponents, also wears some red.

Detroit Tiger coach Billy Hitchcock and shortstop Cooter Veal both attended Auburn College. Both played baseball and basketball there. Hitchcock also played football.

Three Collegians Face Ex-Champs In U.S. Amateur

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three golfing collegians confidently faced tough, experienced former champions Harvie Ward, Charlie Coe and Dick Chapman in the fifth round of the U.S. Amateur Tournament today.

"Sure, I think I can beat Ward," declared 20-year-old Ward Wettlaufer, a senior at Hamilton College in New York. "I'll surprise the golfing world. My game is at its peak."

Ward, who won in 1955 and 1956, commented: "At this stage, every match is tough. The title is at stake on every shot."

Tom Morgan of Fresno (Calif.) State College met Coe, and Southeastern Conference titlist Tom Aaron of Florida teed off against Chapman, who won way back in 1940.

In all, five collegians were listed among the 16 starters, who didn't include last year's champion Hillman Robbins or the man who beat him Wednesday.

Deane Beman, Maryland junior who said he hadn't heard of Johnny Dawson before this tournament drew the 55-year-old former runner-up as his opponent. UCLA's Dick Foote faced Don Bisplinghoff of Miami Beach.

Chuck Kocsis, the Michigan veteran who went to the final in 1956, tried his game against Clyde Oskin, Bethlehem, Pa. Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor, the 41-year-old Pomona, Calif., dentist who lost in last year's final, tangled with the only foreign entry left, Canada's Eric Hanson.

In the other match, Claude Wild, twice winner of the Maryland state title, teed off against Cincinnati's Roger McManus.

Defending champion Robbins left the scene via a 4 and 2 defeat by fat, 43-year-old Marty Stanovich of Niles, Ill., who was beaten by Oskin in the next round.

Ward whipped Charlie Leider, San Mateo, and Jerry Pittman, Tulsa Wednesday.

Oliver Beamon, Pennsylvania guard, is the son of Jordan Beamon, former AAU boxer.

OSU Passing Draws Praise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State passing attack drew praise Wednesday from Coach Woody Hayes. But the Buckeyes' defenses were called "mediocre."

Hayes, who has said the Bucks will take to the air more this year, saw quarterbacks Frank Kremblas of Akron and Jerry Fields of Coal Grove hurl five touchdown passes during the long scrimmage.

Fields, the No. 2 quarterback, put on a near perfect passing exhibition completing his first five passes. Tom Morgan of Hamilton hauled in three of the tosses—two good for touchdowns. Rusty Bowermaster, another Hamilton end, grabbed another Fields pass to score.

The defense took a beating both from the passers and the bevy of backs who ripped through the line for numerous touchdowns.

The Buckeyes' injury bench now has 14 members, including three tackles, Jim Marshall and Birtho Arnold, both of Columbus, and Al Crawford of Canton.

Of the injuries Hayes said:

"You have to expect it. Fortunately we've had no bad ones so far, and we're thankful of that."

'Back Indians' Huge Success

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' top brass took another long, hard look at the baseball situation here today. A disappearing species—the Cleveland baseball fan—suddenly reappeared at Municipal Stadium Wednesday night in unexpected numbers.

Packed into Municipal Stadium for Back-the-Indians night were 50,021 paying customers—the largest crowd at a Tribe ball game since opening day 1955. Some 50,230 turned out that day.

Back-the-Indians night, a civic undertaking prompted by rumors the Tribe might leave town, was a huge success except for the game's final score.

The hometown team failed to respond to encouragement roared by the crowd and the New York Yankees walked off with the game, 8-3.

But that was the only sour note.

A brass band honked out polkas to entertain fans standing in line to buy tickets.

Searchlights threw brilliant beams into the sky over the stadium. Bands paraded, prizes were awarded and the evening was topped off with a fireworks display.

It was a wonderful show, but did it mean the Indians would remain in Cleveland?

Commented William R. Daley, Indians' board chairman:

"I don't feel that statement is necessary because we never said we were moving. The way things were going we simply thought we couldn't stay.

"It certainly is my hope to remain."

Jockey Bill Hartack's 10 - day suspension at Atlantic City in August marked his first since the spring of 1956. He was guilty of careless riding on both occasions.

Friend First In National League To Win 20 This Season

Pirates Beat Giants, 6-4; Braves Win

By The Associated Press

The milestones of success have come hard for Bob Friend. But now he's passed another, finally becoming a 20-game winner with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In 1955, the big right - hander from Indiana led the National League with a 2.84 earned run average. That came hard. No other major league pitcher ever has won an ERA title with a last place club.

In 1956, Friend made the All-Star team for the first time. He started, and won. That came hard. Twenty-four hours earlier there was doubt that he'd even make the game, because of a sore throat.

Wednesday night, he became the first to win 20 in the NL this year.

Friend, 27, had to go 10 innings to get it, beating San Francisco 6-4 on Dick Stuart's two-out, two-run homer. The Giants tagged him for a dozen hits and three walks. But Friend, with his mates getting only three hits over the last eight innings, left 11 on base and blanked the Giants on four singles over the last five frames.

Friend hadn't won more than 17 in one season before with the Pirates—but they had finished last or next to last throughout that seven-year span.

The Bucs, who haven't been this high since 1944, now hold second place by 5½ games over the Giants with the three - game sweep. But the Milwaukee Braves 6½ games ahead, kept rolling toward a second straight pennant by beating Cincinnati 3-0 on Juan Pizarro's three-hitter.

St. Louis tied Cincinnati for fourth, beating the Chicago Cubs 3-1. Philadelphia knocked off Los Angeles 8-6.

Friend had a 4-1 lead after two innings. But it slipped away on Daryl Spencer's two-run homer in the third and Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly in the fifth.

Stuart's shot, his 15th, followed a two-out single by Roberto Clemente off loser Marv Grissom (7-5). Ray Monzant, lifted for a hitter in the 10th, had blanked the Bucs on one hit for 7 1-3 innings—an eighth-inning single by Clemente, whose RBI single capped the four-run second.

Pizarro (6-2), a 21-year - old southpaw, gave up only a pair of singles by Pete Whisenant and Johnny Temple's double while gaining his first major league shutout. The Braves beat Bob Purkey (16-10) with a fifth-inning run on Billy Bruton's bunt and a two-out single by Red Schoendienst while reducing their magic number to eight and eliminating the Reds officially.

A pair of errors helped the Cards in a winning, two-run fifth while Wilmer Mizell (10 - 11) breezed with a four-hitter. The Cubs scored in the eighth on a scoring single by Walt Moryn, who had half their hits. Taylor Phillips (7-9) was the loser.

The Phils, taking their 11-game home season series from the Dodgers for the first time since 1934, scored seven runs, three unearned, in three innings against loser Don Drysdale (11-13). Robin Roberts (15-13) won it with Don Erickson's ninth-inning relief. Carl Furillo and Frank Howard in his major league debut, homered for the Dodgers.

50,021 Watch Indians Lose

By The Associated Press

That "Back-the-Indians" drive paid off with a crowd of 50,021 and a touch of irony at Cleveland Wednesday night.

It was the Tribe's largest night game draw since 1954, the last year they won the American League pennant. But the Injuns came through with the same sort of play that has kept the folks away ever since, losing 8-3 to the New York Yankees. Two of their runs were unearned, and the third was hustled home on three walks and a hit batsman.

The Chicago White Sox, with nothing else to shoot for, padded their second place edge over Boston to 2½ games by beating the Red Sox 7-2. Washington knocked off Detroit 5-4 and Kansas City defeated Baltimore 4-2.

The Indians had seven hits, all singles off Rookie Zack Monroe (4-1), who was relieved by Ryne Duren and Art Ditmar. Elston Howard, Tony Kubek and Hank Bauer each drove in two runs for the Yankees as Don Mossi lost his eighth in 15 decisions.

Southpaw Billy Pierce allowed eight hits and won his 16th for the White Sox, his 150th victory in the majors. He also counted his 1,500th career strikeout, fanning leadoff man Don Buddin. The White Sox broke a 2-all tie with five runs in the eighth off reliever Murray Wall (7-9) with Al Smith hitting a two-run single and Pierce doubling two home.

Clint Courtney drove in four runs for the Senators, who were shut out on one hit by Paul Foytack (12-12) for five innings. Courtney's two-run double capped a three-run sixth, and his seventh homer was good for a clinching two runs in the eighth. Charlie Maxwell hit his third career grand slam homer in the third for the Tigers, who then were blanked by Russ Kemmerer and winning reliever Tex Clevenger (9-8).

Rookie Willie Tasby's first homer, a solo shot in the sixth, gave the Orioles a 2-1 lead at Kansas City. But a two-out error and Hector Lopez' 15th homer put it away for the A's in the eighth. Bob Grim (6-6) was the winner. Jack Harshman (11-13) lost it.

Parochial Group Meets Instructors

A history of Sisters of St. Ursula of Youngstown was given by Fr. William Lawler at the meeting of the Confraternity of Christian Mothers in the Pine Room of the Parochial School of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Wellsville Monday night.

Instructors, who are from The Sisters of St. Ursula, were introduced to the 36 mothers by Fr. Lawler. Mrs. Margaret Doyle, president, presided and opened the session with prayer. The monthly bake sale was scheduled for Sept. 28 with Mrs. Mary Carraher chairman and Mrs. Frances Farina assisting. Plans were made for the NCCW "Day of Recollection" Sunday. The group planned a fruit shower for the Sisters Oct. 19. Members of the confraternity will assist with the school lunch program each noon.

The attendance banner was won by the third and fourth grades taught by Mrs. James Ross. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Doyle, Mrs. Carraher, Mrs. Mary Hawk and Mrs. Helen Zirillo. Prizes were won by Mrs. Catherine Reed and Mrs. Jolen Peller. The next meeting is Oct. 13.

The first official record for speed in an automobile was set in December of 1898, when Comte de Chasseloup-Laubat achieved the then-blazing speed of 39.24 miles an hour.

6,400 Enrollment Expected For WVU

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Registrar J. Everett Long said today that about 6,400 students are expected to begin classes at West Virginia University Monday.

Long announced that about 1,300 freshmen will be among the first semester students. The freshmen registered here today, with upperclassmen to begin a two-day registration period tomorrow.

WVU's new Kanawha Valley Graduate Center will open registration tonight at Institute.

6,400 Enrollment Expected For WVU

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Registrar J. Everett Long said today that about 6,400 students are expected to begin classes at West Virginia University Monday.

Long announced that about 1,300 freshmen will be among the first semester students. The freshmen registered here today, with upperclassmen to begin a two-day registration period tomorrow.

WVU's new Kanawha Valley Graduate Center will open registration tonight at Institute.

Parochial Group Meets Instructors

A history of Sisters of St. Ursula of Youngstown was given by Fr. William Lawler at the meeting of the Confraternity of Christian Mothers in the Pine Room of the Parochial School of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Wellsville Monday night.

Instructors, who are from The Sisters of St. Ursula, were introduced to the 36 mothers by Fr. Lawler. Mrs. Margaret Doyle, president, presided and opened the session with prayer. The monthly bake sale was scheduled for Sept. 28 with Mrs. Mary Carraher chairman and Mrs. Frances Farina assisting. Plans were made for the NCCW "Day of Recollection" Sunday. The group planned a fruit shower for the Sisters Oct. 19. Members of the confraternity will assist with the school lunch program each noon.

The attendance banner was won by the third and fourth grades taught by Mrs. James Ross. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Doyle, Mrs. Carraher, Mrs. Mary Hawk and Mrs. Helen Zirillo. Prizes were won by Mrs. Catherine Reed and Mrs. Jolen Peller. The next meeting is Oct. 13.

The first official record for speed in an automobile was set in December of 1898, when Comte de Chasseloup-Laubat achieved the then-blazing speed of 39.24 miles an hour.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Introducing Art Linkletter

This is the first of a series on how the highly paid stars of television handle their money.

Art Linkletter is a sucker for business people in trouble. He doesn't believe in putting money into full-grown businesses like Standard Oil or A. T. & T. That would be too easy.

Marie Torre

Like a gambler, he prefers to put his money on little business inessmen with out-sized dreams. Many of his present business partnerships began with a solicitation for money. That's how his association with the Touch-Plate Co. began, and he likes to tell the story.

"IT WAS the darnedist thing," recalls Linkletter. "At the time I was on vacation with my wife in Venice. One afternoon we were sitting on the terrace of our suite when the phone rang. The call was from Joe Schulte, who once arranged for me to give away a house on one of my shows.

"Joe was trying to get the Touch-Plate Co. under way, and when he called he said, 'Do you have any idea where I'm calling you from?' Of course I didn't. Then he told me he was phoning from his car while driving down Sunset in California.

He said the reason he called was that he needed $5,000 desperately. I was sort of dazed to think I was talking to a man driving his car and I said sure, of course, and then we hung up."

That $5,000 meant the difference between bankruptcy and survival, and the Touch-Plate Company today is worth several millions.

-:-

"IT'S LIKE playing Monopoly," says Linkletter, except the money and properties are not make-believe, and whoever played Monopoly without realizing an occasional loss?

Linkletter vows that not all his enterprises earn money. A couple of years ago he invested in a venture to grow gladiolas in New Mexico, which ran into weather, water and transport problems and lost money.

But such losses do not send him into fits of despair, or cause him to regret his participation in the business world. After all, there's plenty more where the $40,000 came from.

-:-

ART LINKLETTER'S intense preoccupation with business interests outside of his demanding TV schedule ("with the exception of Arthur Godfrey or Dave Garroway, I am probably on television more often than any one else in broadcasting today") would appear to be the work of a man who knew hunger and didn't like it.

If Linletter's star ever fell from the TV heavens, the income from his many and varied enterprises would keep him living in the style to which he's become accustomed.

Behold the extent of some of his interests:

OWNER AND INVESTOR, Uranium and Lead Mines, Colorado and Utah.

PRESIDENT, Art Linkletter Oil Enterprises.

PRESIDENT and principal owner, Touch-Plate Corp. (A low-voltage wiring company).

PART OWNER of Esperance Plains Development, Australia (over one million acres of rice and sheep ranches which he owns with several other Hollywood people).

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, flying Tiger Lines.

REAL ESTATE OPERATOR, Rancho Mirage, Palm Springs, Calif.

PARTNER, John Guedel Productions (producers of "People Are Funny," "House Party," and "Linkletter and the Kids," a nationally syndicated show featuring the funniest of his interviews with the kids).

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, the Diners' Club.

PARTNER, Vandeburg-Linkletter, public relations firm in New York City.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, Territory Rice, Ltd., Australia.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, Cohu Electronics (radar equipment for the military, transistors, etc.).

-:-

GENERALLY, a man's business holdings are a reflection of his personal interests. The inherent variety of Linkletter's estate, however, offers no clue to his special likes, and he says not to be surprised by that.

"I have money in some businesses," he explains, "which I don't even understand, let alone like. I've got an investment in sheep raising in Australia, but do you think I know anything about raising sheep? Or growing rice? Or oil? Or real estate?

"I don't. I don't believe in going into a business unless I have faith in the person who is going to run it. I like people. I've never soured on them. I don't care how many cheats, liars and crooks I meet, I'll always believe implicitly in people. I'm a sucker for them."

WTAE-TV, Channel 4, Goes On Air Sunday

WTAE, Channel 4, Pittsburgh's newest television station, will begin televising programs Sunday after its formal dedication service at 2 p. m.

A movie, "Pittsburgh," saluting the city of Pittsburgh, will begin at 2:30 p. m.

The new station will telecast ABC programs including "Voice of Firestone," "Pat Boone," "Maverick," "Cheyenne," "Disneyland," "Real McCoys," "Wyatt Earp" and "American Bandstand."

Children On Bus Hurt

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Four of seven children aboard a school bus were injured slightly Wednesday when the bus overturned along a county road 2½ miles north of here. The bus driver, Taylor Jenkins, 26, of Rt. 2, Ironton, said an unidentified truck crowded him off the road and over an embankment. The bus is the property of the Rock Hill school district.

Councilmen, Crucible Aide To Discuss Tax

Group At Midland Told Conference To Be Held Wednesday

Burgess Eli Corak told Midland Council at its meeting Wednesday night that an informal conference of councilmen and W. H. Knoell, Crucible Steel Co. secretary of Pittsburgh, will be held to discuss the borough's position in the Beaver County's new tax program.

The session will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Borough Building. Representation of the Board of Education has been invited.

The burgess said Robert Zapsic, chief assessor, suggested such a meeting.

The borough hopes to learn the position that Crucible Steel will take in the new program.

Machinery in plants and industries will be no longer taxable Jan. 1, thereby throwing more taxes on to Midland property owners.

Much of Midland's taxes have been carried by the Crucible Steel and Aliquippa's by Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., the major industries in the two boroughs.

A knowledge of Midland's position in the tax program is necessary also since it must finance a sewage disposal plant which should already be under construction.

The new tax standard for the entire county is armed to provide equalization.

Burgess Corak also told Council that the two cruiser method is being used to patrol the peak traffic hours to prevent accidents.

Patrolmen are being placed at both ends of town during mill shift changes and one cruiser is being used at certain times when high school students are free to drive around. The two - car method seems to be working effectively, he said.

On the request of Harvey Sponcer to have 25-mile hour signs placed at the east end of Midland Ave. to replace the 35 - mile signs, Council secretary, Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, looked over previous correspondance to see if the borough had received permission from the state to reduce the speed limit.

Permission was granted several months ago, it was found, and Matt Brozic, street department superintendent, said he would see that the signs are changed.

Council approved the request of Steve Germusa, president, to cut the curb at his home, 453 Ohio Ave., for a driveway.

Receipts of $5.38 from Mrs. Susan Vinovich, delinquent tax collector, for settlement of the 1954, 1955, and 1956 tax duplicates were accepted by Council.

In committee reports, Sponcer's request was approved for the borough engineer, Dick Steebner to contract the State Highway Department about needed repairs to Midland Ave.

Holes were reported at 11th St. and at Spring Ln.

Burgess Corak extended congratulations to three councilmen, who as Local 1212 delegates, will attend the ninth biennial United Steelworkers convention in Atlantic City Monday through Thursday. They are Joe D'Alesio, Crucible local president, Raymond Presutti and Joseph Hibbard. D'Alesio was absent at Council as he had already left for Atlantic City.

Council received the reports of the Borough secretary, Ed Stefl, police chief; George Griffin, justice of the peace; Rudy Presutti, tax collector; Steebner, building inspector, and Joe Stanik, treasurer.

Council voted to pay all bills.

To Air Abduction

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Court will conduct a hearing Tuesday on a motion to quash a charge of abduction against William L. Wells, 20, of Nankin, who already has pleaded innocent to a charge of second degree murder. He is accused of shooting his estranged wife Esther, last July 22. His plea on the murder charge was entered Wednesday.

American Samoa, in the Pacific Ocean, consists of six islands. It is perhaps best known for its capital city, Pago Pago.

Missing Since Sept. 3

Relatives Think Chester Man Suffered Foul Play

Relatives said today they believe foul play lies behind the disappearance of a 24-year-old Chester insurance agent Sept. 3, as he was known to be carrying approximately $600 in his company's funds when he vanished.

The missing man is Rodney Perenovich, 193 Pennsylvania Ave., who was seen last when he stopped at a service station to pick up his auto, where he had left it for repair. Perenovich was an agent for the Western & Southern Life Insurance Co. office on W. 6th St., which reported his disappearance to East Liverpool police Sept. 4.

Relatives said the missing man's car may be a clue in helping locate him. It is a black 1952 Ford four-door sedan with West Virginia license 196-955. It carries state inspection sticker No. 30062.

Perenovich is 5 feet 11, weighs 140 and has black hair and blue eyes. When seen last, he was wearing dark trousers, a white shirt, a blue zipper jacket and black shoes.

A native of Midland, he was graduated from Lincoln High School there. He spent four years in the Air Force, from which he was discharged in December.

RODNEY PERENOVICH

He was on duty two years in Africa and two years in Japan. Perenovich has a slight limp in the right leg as the result of infantile paralysis when a child.

Perenovich has been married two years. The couple has no children. He had been with the insurance firm three or four months.

Wellsville Kaycees To Join In Fund Drive

Wellsville Council 507, Knights of Columbus, completed plans Tuesday night for participation in the annual Youth Fund campaign which opens Sunday at the Catholic Youth Center in Steubenville.

The Steubenville meeting will be conducted by Leo T. Stark of Columbus, state advocate. The Wellsville delegation will include James Ross, grand knight, John Barborak, Anthony Cataldo, George Prokop and Ernest McCarty.

A report of the 76th supreme convention held at Cleveland Aug. 17-23 was given by Martin Buchmann, who is now residing at Louisville, Ohio. He served as grand knight of the council in 1910-1912.

There will be installation of officers Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the K. of C. home. James Ross will preside.

Car Collisions Hurt 2 Women

Man Escapes Injury In Another Mishap

Two women received minor injuries in a collision of two autos at Glenmoor Wednesday night while a Wellsville man escaped injury in a crash near Salem yesterday, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven by Samuel Crawford, 69, of St. Clair Ave. Ext., headed southeast on the Y. & O. Rd., made a left turn onto the Cannons Mills Rd. in the path of the approaching auto driven by Helen Fiber, 39, of Glenmoor, officers said. The mishap occurred about 6:50 p. m.

Mrs. Fiber was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the knee, while Mrs. Esther Crawford, 71, passenger in the other car, was treated by a physician for injuries of the left arm.

Crawford was charged with making an improper turn. His 1952 coach and Mrs. Fiber's 1957 coach received moderate damage officers said.

Earl Dinsmoor, 64, of 1229 Commerce St., Wellsville, escaped injury in a collision between his car and one driven by Larry Muntz, 16, of Salem R. D. 2 on Route 45 a mile south of Salem last night at 7:10.

The patrol said Muntz attempted to make a left turn into a driveway as Dinsmoore started to pass. Dinsmoor's car went off the road and grazed a utility pole. The youth was cited for failure to signal a turn.

The front of an auto driven by Samuel Thompson, 18, of Maple St. Ext., Lisbon, was damaged slightly when it struck a deer on Route 164 four miles north of Lisbon at 11:20 p. m. Thompson took the carcass for butchering, under a new state regulation.

Committee Slates Midland Meeting On Charity Drive

The Midland Area Charities Drive campaign committee will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the McGeehan Insurance Agency to make plans for the fund-raising drive in October.

Atty. Edwin M. Wallover, is general chairman. Paul McGeehan and Harvey Sponcer are campaign committee co-chairmen. Nile H. Wain is executive secretary and John C. Ketterer is president.

The goal set for this year's drive is $29,940, which goes to 18 participating agencies, including the Beaver County Children's Home.

Wallover is one of the founders of the charities drive, which combines various fund-raising efforts into one campaign. The drive includes the payroll deduction plan with the Crucible Steel Co. Last year the campaign exceeded the $21,200 goal.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Introducing Art Linkletter

This is the first of a series on how the highly paid stars of television handle their money.

Marie Torre

Art Linkletter is a sucker for business people in trouble. He doesn't believe in putting money into full-grown businesses like Standard Oil or A. T. & T. That would be too easy.

Like a gambler, he prefers to put his money on little business men with out-sized dreams. Many of his present business partnerships began with a solicitation for money. That's how his association with the Touch-Plate Co. began, and he likes to tell the story.

"IT WAS the darnedist thing," recalls Linkletter. "At the time I was on vacation with my wife in Venice. One afternoon we were sitting on the terrace of our suite when the phone rang. The call was from Joe Schulte, who once arranged for me to give away a house on one of my shows.

"Joe was trying to get the Touch-Plate Co. under way, and when he called he said, 'Do you have any idea where I'm calling you from?' Of course I didn't. Then he told me he was phoning from his car while driving down Sunset in California.

He said the reason he called was that he needed $5,000 desperately. I was sort of dazed to think I was talking to a man driving his car and I said sure, of course, and then we hung up."

That $5,000 meant the difference between bankruptcy and survival, and the Touch-Plate Company today is worth several millions.

-:-

"IT'S LIKE playing Monopoly," says Linkletter, except the money and properties are not make-believe, and whoever played Monopoly without realizing an occasional loss?

Linkletter vows that not all his enterprises earn money. A couple of years ago he invested in a venture to grow gladiolas in New Mexico, which ran into weather, water and transport problems and lost money.

But such losses do not send him into fits of despair, or cause him to regret his participation in the business world. After all, there's plenty more where the $40,000 came from.

-:-

ART LINKLETTER'S intense preoccupation with business interests outside of his demanding TV schedule ("with the exception of Arthur Godfrey or Dave Garroway, I am probably on television more often than any one else in broadcasting today") would appear to be the work of a man who knew hunger and didn't like it.

If Linletter's star ever fell from the TV heavens, the income from his many and varied enterprises would keep him living in the style to which he's become accustomed.

Behold the extent of some of his interests:

OWNER AND INVESTOR, Uranium and Lead Mines, Colorado and Utah.

PRESIDENT, Art Linkletter Oil Enterprises.

PRESIDENT and principal owner, Touch-Plate Corp. (A low-voltage wiring company).

PART OWNER of Esperance Plains Development, Australia (over one million acres of rice and sheep ranches which he owns with several other Hollywood people).

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, flying Tiger Lines.

REAL ESTATE OPERATOR, Rancho Mirage, Palm Springs, Calif.

PARTNER, John Guedel Productions (producers of "People Are Funny," "House Party," and "Linkletter and the Kids," a nationally syndicated show featuring the funniest of his interviews with the kids).

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, the Diners' Club.

PARTNER, Vandeburg-Linkletter, public relations firm in New York City.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, Territory Rice, Ltd., Australia.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, Cohu Electronics (radar equipment for the military, transistors, etc.).

-:-

GENERALLY, a man's business holdings are a reflection of his personal interests. The inherent variety of Linkletter's estate, however, offers no clue to his special likes, and he says not to be surprised by that.

"I have money in some businesses," he explains, "which I don't even understand, let alone like. I've got an investment in sheep raising in Australia, but do you think I know anything about raising sheep? Or growing rice? Or oil? Or real estate?

"I don't. I don't believe in going into a business unless I have faith in the person who is going to run it. I like people. I've never soured on them. I don't care how many cheats, liars and crooks I meet, I'll always believe implicitly in people. I'm a sucker for them."

WTAE-TV, Channel 4, Goes On Air Sunday

WTAE, Channel 4, Pittsburgh's newest television station, will begin televising programs Sunday after its formal dedication service at 2 p. m.

A movie, "Pittsburgh," saluting the city of Pittsburgh, will begin at 2:30 p. m.

The new station will telecast ABC programs including "Voice of Firestone," "Pat Boone," "Maverick," "Cheyenne," "Disneyland," "Real McCoys," "Wyatt Earp" and "American Bandstand."

Children On Bus Hurt

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Four of seven children aboard a school bus were injured slightly Wednesday when the bus overturned along a county road 2½ miles north of here. The bus driver, Taylor Jenkins, 26, of Rt. 2, Ironton, said an unidentified truck crowded him off the road and over an embankment. The bus is the property of the Rock Hill school district.

Councilmen, Crucible Aide To Discuss Tax

Group At Midland Told Conference To Be Held Wednesday

Burgess Eli Corak told Midland Council at its meeting Wednesday night that an informal conference of councilmen and W. H. Knoell, Crucible Steel Co. secretary of Pittsburgh, will be held to discuss the borough's position in the Beaver County's new tax program.

The session will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Borough Building. Representation of the Board of Education has been invited.

The burgess said Robert Zapsic, chief assessor, suggested such a meeting.

The borough hopes to learn the position that Crucible Steel will take in the new program.

Machinery in plants and industries will be no longer taxable Jan. 1, thereby throwing more taxes on to Midland property owners.

Much of Midland's taxes have been carried by the Crucible Steel and Aliquippa's by Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., the major industries in the two boroughs.

A knowledge of Midland's position in the tax program is necessary also since it must finance a sewage disposal plant which should already be under construction.

The new tax standard for the entire county is armed to provide equalization.

Burgess Corak also told Council that the two cruiser method is being used to patrol the peak traffic hours to prevent accidents.

Patrolmen are being placed at both ends of town during mill shift changes and one cruiser is being used at certain times when high school students are free to drive around. The two - car method seems to be working effectively, he said.

On the request of Harvey Sponcer to have 25-mile hour signs placed at the east end of Midland Ave. to replace the 35 - mile signs, Council secretary, Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, looked over previous correspondance to see if the borough had received permission from the state to reduce the speed limit.

Permission was granted several months ago, it was found, and Matt Brozic, street department superintendent, said he would see that the signs are changed.

Council approved the request of Steve Germusa, president, to cut the curb at his home, 453 Ohio Ave., for a driveway.

Receipts of $5.38 from Mrs. Susan Vinovich, delinquent tax collector, for settlement of the 1954, 1955, and 1956 tax duplicates were accepted by Council.

In committee reports, Sponcer's request was approved for the borough engineer, Dick Steebner to contract the State Highway Department about needed repairs to Midland Ave.

Holes were reported at 11th St. and at Spring Ln.

Burgess Corak extended congratulations to three councilmen, who as Local 1212 delegates, will attend the ninth biennial United Steelworkers convention in Atlantic City Monday through Thursday. They are Joe D'Alesio, Crucible local president, Raymond Presutti and Joseph Hibbard. D'Alesio was absent at Council as he had already left for Atlantic City.

Council received the reports of the Borough secretary, Ed Stefl, police chief; George Griffin, justice of the peace; Rudy Presutti, tax collector; Steebner, building inspector, and Joe Stanik, treasurer.

Council voted to pay all bills.

To Air Abduction

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Court will conduct a hearing Tuesday on a motion to quash a charge of abduction against William L. Wells, 20, of Nankin, who already has pleaded innocent to a charge of second degree murder. He is accused of shooting his estranged wife Esther, last July 22. His plea on the murder charge was entered Wednesday.

American Samoa, in the Pacific Ocean, consists of six islands. It is perhaps best known for its capital city, Pago Pago.

Missing Since Sept. 3

Relatives Think Chester Man Suffered Foul Play

RODNEY PERENOVICH

Relatives said today they believe foul play lies behind the disappearance of a 24-year-old Chester insurance agent Sept. 3, as he was known to be carrying approximately $600 in his company's funds when he vanished.

The missing man is Rodney Perenovich, 193 Pennsylvania Ave., who was seen last when he stopped at a service station to pick up his auto, where he had left it for repair. Perenovich was an agent for the Western & Southern Life Insurance Co. office on W. 6th St., which reported his disappearance to East Liverpool police Sept. 4.

Relatives said the missing man's car may be a clue in helping locate him. It is a black 1952 Ford four-door sedan with West Virginia license 196-955. It carries state inspection sticker No. 30062.

Perenovich is 5 feet 11, weighs 140 and has black hair and blue eyes. When seen last, he was wearing dark trousers, a white shirt, a blue zipper jacket and black shoes.

A native of Midland, he was graduated from Lincoln High School there. He spent four years in the Air Force, from which he was discharged in December. He was on duty two years in Africa and two years in Japan. Perenovich has a slight limp in the right leg as the result of infantile paralysis when a child.

Perenovich has been married two years. The couple has no children. He had been with the insurance firm three or four months.

Wellsville Kaycees To Join In Fund Drive

Wellsville Council 507, Knights of Columbus, completed plans Tuesday night for participation in the annual Youth Fund campaign which opens Sunday at the Catholic Youth Center in Steubenville.

The Steubenville meeting will be conducted by Leo T. Stark of Columbus, state advocate. The Wellsville delegation will include James Ross, grand knight, John Barborak, Anthony Cataldo, George Prokop and Ernest McCarty.

A report of the 76th supreme convention held at Cleveland Aug. 17-23 was given by Martin Buchmann, who is now residing at Louisville, Ohio. He served as grand knight of the council in 1910-1912.

There will be installation of officers Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the K. of C. home. James Ross will preside.

Car Collisions Hurt 2 Women

Man Escapes Injury In Another Mishap

Two women received minor injuries in a collision of two autos at Glenmoor Wednesday night while a Wellsville man escaped injury in a crash near Salem yesterday, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven by Samuel Crawford, 69, of St. Clair Ave. Ext., headed southeast on the Y. & O. Rd., made a left turn onto the Cannons Mills Rd. in the path of the approaching auto driven by Helen Fiber, 39, of Glenmoor, officers said. The mishap occurred about 6:50 p. m.

Mrs. Fiber was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the knee, while Mrs. Esther Crawford, 71, passenger in the other car, was treated by a physician for injuries of the left arm.

Crawford was charged with making an improper turn. His 1952 coach and Mrs. Fiber's 1957 coach received moderate damage officers said.

Earl Dinsmoor, 64, of 1229 Commerce St., Wellsville, escaped injury in a collision between his car and one driven by Larry Muntz, 16, of Salem R. D. 2 on Route 45 a mile south of Salem last night at 7:10.

The patrol said Muntz attempted to make a left turn into a driveway as Dinsmoore started to pass. Dinsmoor's car went off the road and grazed a utility pole. The youth was cited for failure to signal a turn.

The front of an auto driven by Samuel Thompson, 18, of Maple St. Ext., Lisbon, was damaged slightly when it struck a deer on Route 164 four miles north of Lisbon at 11:20 p. m. Thompson took the carcass for butchering, under a new state regulation.

Liz Taylor Cause?

Eddie And Debbie Have Separated

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher have separated although Debbie says, "I'm still in love with my husband."

They split up Wednesday as Hollywood reverberated to rumors that Elizabeth Taylor was the cause of it all.

But Liz indicated there were some unhappy chapters in Hollywood's storybook marriage.

"I don't feel that I've taken Eddie away from Debbie—because they weren't getting along, anyway," said Miss Taylor.

She slipped into seclusion. Eddie moved in with a friend, comedian Joey Forman. Debbie, after hiding out with friends, returned to the family home.

"I am still in love with my husband," she told newsmen late Wednesday night. "I am deeply shocked over what has happened."

Reporters asked her about Miss Taylor's comment.

"We were never happier than we have been in the last year," said Miss Reynolds. "I've tried to call Miss Taylor several times in the last two days—but I haven't been able to reach her."

Debbie said the separation wasn't her idea.

"Eddie is a great guy," she said. "Don't blame him for what's happened."

Attorneys had this to say of the situation:

"A separation exists between Eddie and Debbie. No further action is being taken at this time."

Eddie and Debbie argued after the singer returned from New York on Tuesday, a week later than expected. During the week Debbie read newspaper accounts of her husband being seen in New York with the beautiful widow of showman Mike Todd.

Todd, was a close friend of Fisher's. When he was killed in a New Mexico plane crash in April, Debbie cared for Liz' children, while Eddie flew with Miss Taylor to the funeral in Illinois.

Eddie and Debbie, idols of the teen-age set, were wed in October 1955. Their first child, a girl, Carrie Frances, was born Oct. 24, 1956. A son, named Todd after their friend, was born last February.

Wednesday night, as newsmen waited for a statement on the couple's marital status, a messenger arrived at the home with a revised script for the picture Debbie starts work on Sept. 29. The title: "The Mating Game."

Auto Industry Holds Key

Employment Trend Faces Real Test In Near Future

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — For the more than 4½ million Americans out of work, the business recovery can't come too soon.

The best thing about the government's latest report on unemployment is that it shows the situation isn't getting any worse.

The official figures indicate a drop in unemployment between mid-July and mid-August. But that drop seems to be more apparent than real.

It was confined largely to the removal of job-seeking students from the labor force. For the mature worker the situation was little changed.

The influx of students into the labor force in June sent that month's total unemployed to a recession peak of 5½ million.

There are still two million more persons out of work than a year ago. While increased industrial output has called some back to jobs most of the gain in production has been accomplished either by greater productivity through the use of better equipment or by lengthening of the work week.

The real test of the employment trend will show up this month and next.

If the auto industry comes to terms with its workers and there is no strike, employment figures should rise reasonably and the recovery should get up enough momentum to whittle at the disheartening total of the jobless.

Speeding up of work on the new models this month and next — barring a labor stoppage—should send employment sharply upward.

For factory workers with jobs, the summer has seen a slow increase in the number of hours worked. The average factory work week is still below last year's figure but is gradually pulling up toward 40 hours again.

This, coupled with wage increases in some industries, has increased their take-home pay and has helped keep the total of consumer spending at a fairly high level.

Partly because of this, many merchants are turning very optimistic about fall and Christmas trade. Their supplies report a jump in reordering.

Ike To Clear It Up?

Dulles Causes Confusion

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's decision to broadcast to the nation tonight on the Far East crisis comes after Secretary of State Dulles' admission the public has not been adequately informed on the situation.

Many people have wondered why this country gives the appearance of readiness to fight Red China if it attacks the small Quemoy and Matsu islands, held by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese just a few miles off the China coast.

The basic question is and has been: Are they worth fighting for?

But more than lack of information on this critical question is involved. There has been confusion.

Dulles himself caused some of it at Newport, R.I., last week by speaking to reporters as secretary of state one minute and the next as a "high official" who sounded tougher than Dulles when he was speaking as secretary.

This left the public wondering who was sounding tougher than Dulles and Eisenhower on a question which might involve this country in war.

Newsmen were bound by ground rules not to identify the "high official" as Dulles, but the secretary since has agreed to let himself be named as the source.

In all fairness — this writer believes — some newsmen who listened to the "high official" must bear responsibility for part of the confusion. They wrote a much tougher interpretation into his words than the words themselves expressed.

This is the background leading up to tonight's talk by Eisenhower:

Last Thursday Dulles visited the President at his Newport vacation headquarters, then he came out and, under his own identity, read to newsmen a 900-word statement approved by Eisenhower.

This was the official American position on this country's relation to Quemoy and Matsu and what the United States would do if they were attacked. It actually added little or nothing to what was already known.

It was deliberately vague. Simply, it said Eisenhower hadn't yet decided what to do. Although this left the American public guessing, it also left the Chinese Communists guessing.

But Dulles, having finished this formal statement, then conducted what is known as a background conference. This means that newsmen understand they are not to identify by name the government official who talks to them.

Standing behind this screen of anonymity, Dulles went a little further than what he had just said.

He was asked if the vague but official statement meant the United States would fight in defense of Quemoy and Matsu if Chiang's men couldn't hold them. Dulles, in his role as a "high official," said: "That is the indication of this thing."

He quickly added that he didn't want to go beyond the official statement. Some newsmen interpreted his words as saying the administration had made up its mind to defend the islands although the official statement said Eisenhower hadn't made up his mind.

During this give-and-take Dulles was asked if he didn't think many people in this country might oppose going to war with Red China over the islands. The "high official" said: "I believe the sentiment of the country, when it is adequately informed," would be overwhelmingly behind any decision to defend Quemoy and Matsu.

Then began the public puzzlement over the identity of the "high official" doing this big talking.

Dulles let himself be named after Dean Acheson, former secretary of state flatly said Dulles himself had been the "high official."

At his Tuesday news conference, Dulles was repeatedly asked why the public had not been kept better informed on administration thinking about Quemoy and Matsu. Dulles said in brief: Some things are so delicate — in final decisions of great importance — that the President and his advisers can't share them with the general public.

New Facilities Await Students At Miami U.

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — There will be approximately two million dollars worth of new buildings and facilities available for Miami University students when they start classes on Sept. 17.

Ready for use will be the $944,287 Hiestand Hall for the School of Fine Arts; the 108-apartment Miami Manor for married students, and improvements to the football stadium costing $141,060.

The stadium improvements include a new press box, 2,000 additional seats and new rest rooms in the west stands.

Approximately four million dollars worth of new construction now is under way.

State Right-Of-Way Negotiator Suspended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Deputy State Highway Director Harold H. Waddel today disclosed the 30-day suspension of a right-of-way negotiator.

Waddel said Nathan Vradelis, Dayton, was suspended Sept. 3 for "certain methods he reportedly employed in his negotiations to purchase land for highways." He did not elaborate on the reported methods.

Waddel said his office is conducting a thorough investigation.

Judge Uses Shillelagh

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Luzerne County Common Pleas Court Judge Frank L. Pinola lost his gavel, but he still has something to pound with—an 18-inch genuine Irish shillelagh. It was presented to him by State Sen. Harold Flack. The judge plans to use it until he gets a new gavel.

In Texas it is illegal to "float or bloat" oysters. This means adding ice to make them weigh more than their true weight.

VFW Committee To Visit Soldiers And Sailors Home

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A state official of the Veterans of Foreign Wars says a VFW committee will visit the Soldiers and Sailors Home Monday, even if it doesn't have an appointment with Maj. John W. Parker, commandant.

John Frye, of Lorain, senior vice commander of the Ohio VFW, was appointed by State Commander LeRoy G. Schell of Steubenville to look into reports of misconduct at the home.

Frye sent a local representative to the home Wednesday, without any success in seeing Maj. Parker.

"But even if Parker doesn't give us an appointment we're going in there anyway on Monday," said Frye.

Trustees of the home recently censured Parker for receiving contributions of several residents toward the expenses of a convention. However, the trustees said they did not question Parker's intent. The funds have been returned to the residents.

Grants Applications

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission has granted new station applications to two Ohio groups. They went to the Van Wert Broadcasting Co. of Van Wert, 1220 kilocycles, 250 watts, for daytime, and the Mahoning Valley Broadcasting Corp. of Youngstown for FM frequency 93.3 megacycles.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Plans New Ohio Plant

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. today announced plans for construction of a multimillion dollar glass fabricating plant on a 49-acre site at Crestline, Ohio.

Robinson F. Barker, vice president of the firm's glass division, said 250 to 275 will be employed when the one-story plant is completed next year. It will serve major automotive customers.

The opera, "Mignon," is based on Goethe's "Wilhelm Meister."

Auto Industry Holds Key

Employment Trend Faces Real Test In Near Future

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — For the more than 4½ million Americans out of work, the business recovery can't come too soon.

The best thing about the government's latest report on unemployment is that it shows the situation isn't getting any worse.

The official figures indicate a drop in unemployment between mid-July and mid-August. But that drop seems to be more apparent than real.

It was confined largely to the removal of job-seeking students from the labor force. For the mature worker the situation was little changed.

The influx of students into the labor force in June sent that month's total unemployed to a recession peak of 5½ million.

There are still two million more persons out of work than a year ago. While increased industrial output has called some back to jobs most of the gain in production has been accomplished either by greater productivity through the use of better equipment or by lengthening of the work week.

The real test of the employment trend will show up this month and next.

If the auto industry comes to terms with its workers and there is no strike, employment figures should rise reasonably and the recovery should get up enough momentum to whittle at the disheartening total of the jobless.

Speeding up of work on the new models this month and next — barring a labor stoppage—should send employment sharply upward.

For factory workers with jobs, the summer has seen a slow increase in the number of hours worked. The average factory work week is still below last year's figure but is gradually pulling up toward 40 hours again.

This, coupled with wage increases in some industries, has increased their take-home pay and has helped keep the total of consumer spending at a fairly high level.

Partly because of this, many merchants are turning very optimistic about fall and Christmas trade. Their supplies report a jump in reordering.

Ike To Clear It Up?

Dulles Causes Confusion

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's decision to broadcast to the nation tonight on the Far East crisis comes after Secretary of State Dulles' admission the public has not been adequately informed on the situation.

Many people have wondered why this country gives the appearance of readiness to fight Red China if it attacks the small Quemoy and Matsu islands, held by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese just a few miles off the China coast.

The basic question is and has been: Are they worth fighting for?

But more than lack of information on this critical question is involved. There has been confusion.

Dulles himself caused some of it at Newport, R.I., last week by speaking to reporters as secretary of state one minute and the next as a "high official" who sounded tougher than Dulles when he was speaking as secretary.

This left the public wondering who was sounding tougher than Dulles and Eisenhower on a question which might involve this country in war.

Newsmen were bound by ground rules not to identify the "high official" as Dulles, but the secretary since has agreed to let himself be named as the source.

In all fairness — this writer believes — some newsmen who listened to the "high official" must bear responsibility for part of the confusion. They wrote a much tougher interpretation into his words than the words themselves expressed.

This is the background leading up to tonight's talk by Eisenhower:

Last Thursday Dulles visited the President at his Newport vacation headquarters, then he came out and, under his own identity, read to newsmen a 900-word statement approved by Eisenhower.

This was the official American position on this country's relation to Quemoy and Matsu and what the United States would do if they were attacked. It actually added little or nothing to what was already known.

It was deliberately vague. Simply, it said Eisenhower hadn't yet decided what to do. Although this left the American public guessing, it also left the Chinese Communists guessing.

But Dulles, having finished this formal statement, then conducted what is known as a background conference. This means that newsmen understand they are not to identify by name the government official who talks to them.

Standing behind this screen of anonymity, Dulles went a little further than what he had just said.

He was asked if the vague but official statement meant the United States would fight in defense of Quemoy and Matsu if Chiang's men couldn't hold them. Dulles, in his role as a "high official," said: "That is the indication of this thing."

He quickly added that he didn't want to go beyond the official statement. Some newsmen interpreted his words as saying the administration had made up its mind to defend the islands although the official statement said Eisenhower hadn't made up his mind.

During this give-and-take Dulles was asked if he didn't think many people in this country might oppose going to war with Red China over the islands. The "high official" said: "I believe the sentiment of the country, when it is adequately informed," would be overwhelmingly behind any decision to defend Quemoy and Matsu.

Then began the public puzzlement over the identity of the "high official" doing this big talking.

Dulles let himself be named after Dean Acheson, former secretary of state flatly said Dulles himself had been the "high official."

At his Tuesday news conference, Dulles was repeatedly asked why the public had not been kept better informed on administration thinking about Quemoy and Matsu. Dulles said in brief: Some things are so delicate — in final decisions of great importance — that the President and his advisers can't share them with the general public.

New Facilities Await Students At Miami U.

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — There will be approximately two million dollars worth of new buildings and facilities available for Miami University students when they start classes on Sept. 17.

Ready for use will be the $944,287 Hiestand Hall for the School of Fine Arts; the 108-apartment Miami Manor for married students, and improvements to the football stadium costing $141,060.

The stadium improvements include a new press box, 2,000 additional seats and new rest rooms in the west stands.

Approximately four million dollars worth of new construction now is under way.

State Right-Of-Way Negotiator Suspended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Deputy State Highway Director Harold H. Waddel today disclosed the 30-day suspension of a right-of-way negotiator.

Waddel said Nathan Vradelis, Dayton, was suspended Sept. 3 for "certain methods he reportedly employed in his negotiations to purchase land for highways." He did not elaborate on the reported methods.

Vradelis has worked for the state in right-of-way work for four years. His headquarters is at the department's division office in Middletown.

Waddel said his office is conducting a thorough investigation.

Judge Uses Shillelagh

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Luzerne County Common Pleas Court Judge Frank L. Pinola lost his gavel, but he still has something to pound with—an 18-inch genuine Irish shillelagh. It was presented to him by State Sen. Harold Flack. The judge plans to use it until he gets a new gavel.

In Texas it is illegal to "float or bloat" oysters. This means adding ice to make them weigh more than their true weight.

VFW Committee To Visit Soldiers And Sailors Home

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A state official of the Veterans of Foreign Wars says a VFW committee will visit the Soldiers and Sailors Home Monday, even if it doesn't have an appointment with Maj. John W. Parker, commandant.

John Frye, of Lorain, senior vice commander of the Ohio VFW, was appointed by State Commander LeRoy G. Schell of Steubenville to look into reports of misconduct at the home.

Frye sent a local representative to the home Wednesday, without any success in seeing Maj. Parker.

"But even if Parker doesn't give us an appointment we're going in there anyway on Monday," said Frye.

Trustees of the home recently censured Parker for receiving contributions of several residents toward the expenses of a convention. However, the trustees said they did not question Parker's intent. The funds have been returned to the residents.

Grants Applications

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission has granted new station applications to two Ohio groups. They went to the Van Wert Broadcasting Co. of Van Wert, 1220 kilocycles, 250 watts, for daytime, and the Mahoning Valley Broadcasting Corp. of Youngstown for FM frequency 93.3 megacycles.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Plans New Ohio Plant

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. today announced plans for construction of a multimillion dollar glass fabricating plant on a 49-acre site at Crestline, Ohio.

Robinson F. Barker, vice president of the firm's glass division, said 250 to 275 will be employed when the one-story plant is completed next year. It will serve major automotive customers.

The opera, "Mignon," is based on Goethe's "Wilhelm Meister."

Midland Club Marks Anniversary

Mrs. P. A. Fernsler, one of the three founders, and past presidents were honored at the Midland Junior Women's Club program marking its 25th anniversary Wednesday night in the Hi-Spot Center in the Borough Building and 40 attended.

First row, left to right, are Mrs. William Monac, president; Mrs. Fernsler, and Mrs. William A. Leech Jr., state education chairman of women's clubs of Pittsburgh and in second row, Mrs. William Moll, 1939-40, president; Mrs. Robert Needs, 1943-44 president, and Mrs. Harrell Bomar, president of the Beaver County Junior Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Fernsler, was the Beaver County Federation president in 1933 when she helped organize the group. Mrs. George Muns, another founder, was president of the Senior Women's Club at that time.

The third founder, Mrs. Eugene O'Neil, now of Boston, was the first president of the Midland club.

The county project in 1933 was to organize a club in Midland.

Mrs. Muns and Mrs. O'Neil were unable to attend last night.

Eight past presidents present were Mrs. Moll, Mrs. Needs, Mrs. Charles Schmitt, Mrs. Vincent Carroll, Mrs. Claude Reed, Mrs. Harry Humbert, Mrs. Frank Migliore and Mrs. Eugene Fritz.

Mrs. Leech, guest speaker, told how all women's clubs started and said Pennsylvania has more such clubs than any other state. The Pittsburgh club is the oldest and was started in 1875 but it wasn't until 1913 that the first junior club was founded in Pittsburgh.

Table decorations included an autumn floral arrangement and a large cake with 25th anniversary inscribed in silver. Luncheon was served, and Mrs. Bomar and Mrs. Fernsler poured.

The club will sponser a public card party next Thursday at Deramo's Restaurant. Mrs. George Piggott, chairman, and her ways and means committee will be in charge. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. Proceeds will go to the treasury and tickets may be obtained from members or at the door.

The Executive Board will meet at the home of Mrs. Piggott of Midland Heights Oct. 1 at 8:30 p. m. and the next regular meeting is Oct. 8 at Deramo's at 8 p. m.

Women's Club At Wellsville Will Present Minstrel Show

"Minstrels of 1958" will be presented by the Wellsville Womens' Civic Club Oct. 22-23 at the high school auditorium, according to plans discussed at a meeting Tuesday night in the social rooms of the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association.

The meeting launched the fall and winter activities of the group.

Another meeting will be held Wednesday at the MacDonald School and all interested in participating in the minstrel are urged to attend. Five practices have been scheduled — Sept. 23 and 30, Oct. 7, 14 and 21, in addition to one dress rehearsal.

Committees and chairmen include Mrs. Betty Jackson and Mrs. Dorothy Katz, program books; Mrs. Jean Broderick and Mrs. Peggy Todd, costumes and make-up; Mrs. Martha Sommers, Mrs. Jean Tipton and Mrs. Nell Piatt, stage effects and lighting; Mrs. Dorothy McCreary, publicity; Mrs. Betty Salisberry and Mrs. Evelyn Springer, tickets Edward Patzsch, interlocutor; Mrs. Louise Lawton, pianist; Mrs. Doris Morrow and Mrs. Virginia Gitschier, solicitation.

Mrs. Todd, dance chairman, announced that final plans for the fall event will be announced at next month's meeting.

Named to revise the by-laws were Mrs. Katz, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Sommers and Mrs. Springer.

Christmas candles, which will be sold as a project, were displayed at the meeting by Mrs. Edna Brown, ways and means chairman.

The sum of $5 was donated to the volunteer fire department. Mrs. Marjorie Dysert, president, presided. Lunch was served by Mrs. Mary Clark, Mrs. Tipton, and Mrs. Gitschier. The next meeting is Oct. 14.

The source of the river Thames, which flows through London, is a spring in a meadow in the Cotswald countryside.

Cumberland Projects Reviewed By Planners

NEW CUMBERLAND — The community's five-member Municipal Planning Commission reviewed the status of future projects when it met Wednesday night in Town Hall to resume business after the summer recess.

Projects included a street repair program, community cleanup week, and adoption of a plat to show locations of streets, sewers, and individual lots.

Atty. Edwin Flowers, chairman, presided. Others who attended were Mrs. Lillie Crissinger and Mrs. Jane McNeil. Abe Herman and Kurt Swan were absent. Herman is hospitalized while Swan was unable to attend because of a working schedule.

The next meeting will be Sept. 24, Atty. Flowers said.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Compliments Spur Beginning Reducers

At any stage of reducing, praise is cheering to a struggling dieter. But it is perhaps particularly welcome at the beginning of the program, for it is then that the denials seem to far outweight any tangible rewards.

Ida Jean Kain

However, if you have a considerable amount of excess poundage to lose, it is best not to expect praise early in your program. Not until you have reduced something like 20 pounds will there be any discernable change. For this reason, you are not apt to hear favorable comments about your appearance. Knowing this in advance can keep you from being disheartened.

Here is a true experience of one dieter who has now succeeded in reducing 50 pounds: Her starting weight was 222 pounds.

SHE IS 5 FEET 7 tall. At the time she had lost 20 pounds not one person had commented on the change. But when she had taken off another 5 pounds, suddenly all her friends began paying her compliments.

This dieter, who is a very honest individual, stated candidly that even with 25 pounds off there was no startling change in her figure.

Now here is the good news. After the first 25 excess pounds are gone, from then on your progress is gratifyingly noticeable. Even a five pound loss makes a rewarding difference.

In reducing, it helps to know the score. Past size 36 in the women's size range, the average number of pounds between dress sizes is 16 pounds. When you have a great deal of weight to lose, however, 16 pounds off may not be enough to change your dress size.

Stay with a calorie curbing. Reduce 6 to 8 more pounds and you will be able to slip into a dress a full size smaller. In other words, in larger than average sizes, there may be 20 to 25 pounds between dress sizes.

And here's more encouragement: After you have lost part of the excess, the number of pounds between the size you are wearing and the next smaller size diminishes. Instead of 25 pounds, it will be 20 or even 18 pounds. Knowing this can keep you from giving up just when that smaller size dress is within sight.

ON THE AVERAGE, the pounds between sizes vary from 10 to 16, depending on your stature. In large sizes, there is a 16 pound difference; in medium sizes, a 12 to 14 pound difference; and in small sizes, there is a 10 pound difference.

Of course, there is no use to shade facts on any size. If you can barely squeeze into your present size, then three to five added pounds may force you into the next larger size!

Since women love to see that small size label in a dress, the manufacturer's dress size is fairly close to the top weight limit at which that size can be worn.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Perfect Dress Size Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean a white enameled pan in which food has been burned?

A. This can be done, without injury to the enamel, by putting a quantity of soap powder and boiling water in the pan and letting it stand for three or four days. The blackness will then wash off with a soft cloth.

Q. How can I test the strength and good quality of cotton fabrics?

A. By holding the fabric up against a light to see the thickness of the weave. The tighter the weave, the better the material will wear.

Q. Isn't fresh bread better than old bread for toasting?

A. No; bread that is to be used for toasting is better if it is one or two days old.

Ruritan Club To Meet

CLARKSON — The Middleton Township Ruritan Club will meet Monday night at 6:30 at the Band Hall. The Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church will serve the meal.

Tires Of Future Seen Vulcanized By A-Radiation

CHICAGO (AP) — In 10 years, you may be riding on rubber tires vulcanized by atomic radiation, a researcher for B. F. Goodrich Co. said today.

But it probably won't be sooner than that," Dale J. Harmon added. During the next decade, he said, the atomic process won't be able to compete economically with the conventional method.

Harmon, who is on the staff of the B. F. Goodrich Research Co., Brecksville, Ohio, outlined the atomic process before the division of rubber chemistry of the American Chemical Society, meeting in Chicago.

He said radiation will provide a high-speed, continuous-flow method for curing sticky raw rubber into such products as tires, heels, cushions and gaskets. The conventional method involves curing pits, molds and curing ovens, he said.

Using atomic radiation, producers could cure extruded goods—such as tubing—without heat and would be able to cure thick goods uniformly throughout, Harmon said.

Honey Dressing Glamorizes Fruit Salads

Diet-conscious folks watch their menus just as carefully for too many calories as for too few vitamins.

Into prominence with the calorie counter has come the salad. Often neglected as an unnecessary part of the meal, the salad is a good way to pack many vitamins but few calories into a meal.

New emphasis has been placed on the use of honey in the dressings.

Some cooks like the tart taste to be gained by mixing equal parts of honey and lemon juice for fruit salads. This can be stored in the refrigerator and needs only to be stirred for instant use.

Here are two choice dressings: A French Dressing and a Honey Mustard Dressing which no one will turn down if you make it. The whipped cream makes the dressing a bit festive for a party table — so make both and let each take her choice.

Honey French Dressing

½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon mustard
2 tablespoons catsup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup vinegar
½ cup salad oil

Blend honey with dry ingredients. Add catsup and lemon juice. Then vinegar and oil. Beat well with egg beater.

Honey Mustard Dressing

½ cup whipping cream, chilled
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons strained honey

Whip cream until stiff; add other ingredients while whipping. Chill. Serve on fruit salads. Makes 1 cup.

DiSalle, O'Neill Active

Ohio Governor Candidates Spur Election Campaigns

By The Associated Press

Ohio's candidates for governor pursued campaigns in northern Ohio Wednesday night—Democrat Michael V. DiSalle planning strategy with Cleveland party leaders and Gov. C. William O'Neill at Sandusky for a dinner honoring the late U.S. Sen. Robert A. Taft.

With O'Neill was Sen. John W. Bricker who received from Taft's son, Robert Jr., now a state legislator from Cincinnati, a promise of support in Bricker's campaign for a third term.

Taft said he felt Bricker represented "the basic ideals of individual initiative, liberty and resulting progress for which my father worked with you for so many years."

Before about 500 persons at the dinner, Bricker expressed deep appreciation for Taft's support, then pursued a theme he had followed in Cleveland speeches Tuesday: The excellent business climate in Ohio and the share of credit for that he assigns to GOP officials.

O'Neill reviewed his administration's progress in highway and mental health hospital construction.

DiSalle attended a number of meetings in Cleveland and talked with Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze and former U.S. Sen. Thomas A. Burke. In his Cleveland speeches Di'salle said the O'Neill administration acted too late and did too little to ease Ohio unemployment.

He said two of the "many measures that could have been taken" were "earlier extension of unemployment compensation to those who months ago had exhausted their benefits and the authorization of supplemental unemployments benefits."

He said the blocking of SUB payments "prolonged the recession by withholding funds that would have bolstered our total economy."

O'Neill's administration also came under attack in Lima by Mark McElroy, Cleveland attorney who is Democratic candidate for attorney general.

McElroy referred to "outrageous arrogance implicit in the attorney general's handling of land acquisition cases."

He told an annual dinner of the Allen County Democratic Executive Committee that a group of Lima lawyers started him out on his campaign against what he called a "take-it-or-leave-it policy in acquiring lands for roads."

Hessian Fly Date Is Sept. 26 For Safe Planting Of Wheat

The safe sowing date against the Hessian fly is Sept. 26 for Columbiana County wheat planters, according to D. Lyle Coleman, extension entomologist at Ohio State University.

His insect control bulletin for September has been received by Floyd Lower, county agricultural agent.

The simple practice of delaying planting until after the "fly-safe sowing date" has controlled a very destructive insect. This practice cost Ohio farmers nothing.

New wheat varieites are now being developed which are resistant to Hessian fly. Dual, a new variety developed for its resistance, is now available in Ohio. Although not entirely resistant to all strains of the Hessian fly it is the most resistant variety available and should be planted if the fly-safe date is going to be ignored.

Boxelder Bugs are a common nuisance during the fall and in warm days in winter when they swarm into houses or congregate in great numbers upon tree trunks, porches, walls.

During the summer these bugs feed on the foliage of boxelder trees, but in the fall they leave the trees to seek shelter in homes or buildings. They cause the housewife much anguish when they get inside the home. They are difficult to control. Chlordane, or Dieldrin sprays applied to the tree trunks, or wherever the bugs are congregated, give fair control. The spray should be directed at the bugs. Repeat applications will be necessary, Coleman said.

Chicken mites are often found infesting poultry flocks. Both the chicken mite and the feather mite suck blood from the birds, drastically reducing egg production.

The feather mites live on the birds and can be found in greyish masses on the feathers, particularly under the tail.

The chicken, or poultry mite, spends its non-feeding time hiding in cracks and crevices around the nests and roosts, getting on the birds only to feed. Malathion applied as a spray or dust controls both kinds of mites and also lice. Poultrymen should apply Malathion thoroughly to roosts, nests, and adjacent areas as well as on the birds themselves.

Fall army worms are sometimes a problem on late sweet corn. Infestations have been reported from the Marietta area in Southern Ohio. This insect is a southern pest, but it often migrates northward in late summer. The larvae, which are similar to the true army worm, often burrow into the tassel before emerging, burying themselves in the plant tissue. Control is difficult once the worms are embedded. Sweet corn growers should be on the alert and apply DDT at the rate of 2 pounds per acre. This is effective if applied early.

Fleas are usually most abundant in late summer and early fall. Many reports of cat or dog flea infestations are being received at this time. These small, brown, jumping insects often bite man around the legs and ankles. They may often be confused with chigger bites. Fleas may breed in tremendous numbers where pets or livestock are kept. They usually spread through homes during a temporary absence of pets thus making human beings a choice host for a blood meal. If a flea problem exists in a home it is important to treat the animal, its sleeping quarters and other infested areas at the same time. Sprays or dusts containing Malathion or DDT are effective in controlling fleas. Follow directions carefully for best results, Coleman said.

More And Better Social Workers Seen U.S. Need

CLEVELAND (AP)—More and better social workers and a lessening of the conflicts in the state, federal and local laws under which they work are needed in the opinion of the nation's director of health, education and welfare.

Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, former president of Ohio Wesleyan University, told the Ohio Welfare Conference Wednesday night that social work was a road to peace. It is foolish, he said, to regard mutual assistance cynically as a giveaway program.

"If our nation is to find or save its life, it must be willing to lose it in dedicated and intelligent service on behalf of other peoples," he said.

On the shortage of trained social workers, Flemming observed that society tends to take advantage of these people's willingness to serve. Low salaries are to blame, he said, for the shortage.

"Unless we provide rates of compensation that will be looked upon as fair, we are not going to attract and retain the number of competent men and women that we need so desperately."

Flemming was introduced by Prof. Everett C. Shimp of Ohio State University, who a few hours earlier was elected president of Ohio Welfare Conference. Professor Shimp is director of Ohio State's School of Social Administration.

FBI Arrests Man For His Unlawful Flight From Ohio

ROCKMART, Ga. (AP)—A man wanted for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for armed robbery in Ohio was arrested by FBI agents Wednesday nearly three years after he fled the Middle West.

N. R. Johnson of the FBI identified him as Ray Bambrel, 41, of Hamilton, Ohio.

Johnson said agents nabbed him on a country road near the small farm where he had been living in this town 35 miles northwest of Atlanta under the name of Dale O'connell. He surrendered quietly.

Gambrel was given a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Rowell Stantion at Rome and ordered held in Floyd County jail there under $25,000 bond. A formal hearing will be held at an early date.

The FBI said the arrest followed tips from private citizens who recognized him from photographs of wanted men.

In Cincinnati, Ohio, Special Agent Ed D. Mason said Gambrel had been identified as one of two men who robbed a Dayton couple of $900 in cash and $5,350 in U. S. Savings Bonds in 1951

Strike At GM Plant Goes Into Second Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The strike of 4,500 workers at the General Motors' Ternstedt plant here went into its second day today.

Officials of the United Automobile Workers Union said the strike was caused by a dispute over production demands, and time and work studies. Plant officials, however, said the strike was another of "UAW's hit-and-run tactics designed to hinder production of new models."

UAW workers also walked out of the plant July 10, but the 11-member executive board of Local 969 declined to sanction the strike and persuaded pickets to withdraw.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of RALPH BENNETT who passed away five years ago today. Deep in our lives there's a lonely spot, your smiling face used to fill, but nothing can take the memory that shines there and always will. Sadly missed by his wife, children and grandchildren.

MARGARET Alice Freeman. In loving memory of my darling mother, who left us 5 years ago today September 11, 1953. She left a gap in the circle that can never be replaced. How we miss her cheery laughter and her dear smiling face. For she spread a lot of sunshine round the place, when she was home. And we all died just a little when we knew that she was gone. If she knew of our grief and our sorrow, I can almost hear her say, "Don't weep, try and be happy for I am not dead, I am just away." Sadly missed by her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Beaver.

Honey Dressing Glamorizes Fruit Salads

Diet-conscious folks watch their menus just as carefully for too many calories as for too few vitamins.

Into prominence with the calorie counter has come the salad. Often neglected as an unnecessary part of the meal, the salad is a good way to pack many vitamins but few calories into a meal.

New emphasis has been placed on the use of honey in the dressings.

Some cooks like the tart taste to be gained by mixing equal parts of honey and lemon juice for fruit salads. This can be stored in the refrigerator and needs only to be stirred for instant use.

Here are two choice dressings: A French Dressing and a Honey Mustard Dressing which no one will turn down if you make it. The whipped cream makes the dressing a bit festive for a party table — so make both and let each take her choice.

Honey French Dressing

¼ cup honey
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon mustard
2 tablespoons catsup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup vinegar
½ cup salad oil

Blend honey with dry ingredients. Add catsup and lemon juice. Then vinegar and oil. Beat well with egg beater.

Honey Mustard Dressing

½ cup whipping cream, chilled
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons strained honey

Whip cream until stiff; add other ingredients while whipping. Chill. Serve on fruit salads. Makes 1 cup.

DiSalle, O'Neill Active

Ohio Governor Candidates Spur Election Campaigns

By The Associated Press

Ohio's candidates for governor pursued campaigns in northern Ohio Wednesday night—Democrat Michael V. DiSalle planning strategy with Cleveland party leaders and Gov. C. William O'Neill at Sandusky for a dinner honoring the late U.S. Sen. Robert A. Taft.

With O'Neill was Sen. John W. Bricker who received from Taft's son, Robert Jr., now a state legislator from Cincinnati, a promise of support in Bricker's campaign for a third term.

Taft said he felt Bricker represented "the basic ideals of individual initiative, liberty and resulting progress for which my father worked with you for so many years."

Before about 500 persons at the dinner, Bricker expressed deep appreciation for Taft's support, then pursued a theme he had followed in Cleveland speeches Tuesday: The excellent business climate in Ohio and the share of credit for that he assigns to GOP officials.

O'Neill reviewed his administration's progress in highway and mental health hospital construction.

DiSalle attended a number of meetings in Cleveland and talked with Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze and former U.S. Sen. Thomas A. Burke. In his Cleveland speeches Di'salle said the O'Neill administration acted too late and did too little to ease Ohio unemployment.

He said two of the "many measures that could have been taken" were "earlier extension of unemployment compensation to those who months ago had exhausted their benefits and the authorization of supplemental unemployments benefits."

He said the blocking of SUB payments "prolonged the recession by withholding funds that would have bolstered our total economy."

O'Neill's administration also came under attack in Lima by Mark McElroy, Cleveland attorney who is Democratic candidate for attorney general.

McElroy referred to "outrageous arrogance implicit in the attorney general's handling of land acquisition cases."

He told an annual dinner of the Allen County Democratic Executive Committee that a group of Lima lawyers started him out on his campaign against what he called a "take-it-or-leave-it policy in acquiring lands for roads."

Hessian Fly Date Is Sept. 26 For Safe Planting Of Wheat

The safe sowing date against the Hessian fly is Sept. 26 for Columbiana County wheat planters, according to D. Lyle Coleman, extension entomologist at Ohio State University.

His insect control bulletin for September has been received by Floyd Lower, county agricultural agent.

The simple practice of delaying planting until after the "fly-safe sowing date" has controlled a very destructive insect. This practice cost Ohio farmers nothing.

New wheat varieites are now being developed which are resistant to Hessian fly. Dual, a new variety developed for its resistance, is now available in Ohio. Although not entirely resistant to all strains of the Hessian fly it is the most resistant variety available and should be planted if the fly-safe date is going to be ignored.

Boxelder Bugs are a common nuisance during the fall and in warm days in winter when they swarm into houses or congregate in great numbers upon tree trunks, porches, walls.

During the summer these bugs feed on the foliage of boxelder trees, but in the fall they leave the trees to seek shelter in homes or buildings. They cause the housewife much anguish when they get inside the home. They are difficult to control. Chlordane, or Dieldrin sprays applied to the tree trunks, or wherever the bugs are congregated, give fair control. The spray should be directed at the bugs. Repeat applications will be necessary, Coleman said.

Chicken mites are often found infesting poultry flocks. Both the chicken mite and the feather mite suck blood from the birds, drastically reducing egg production.

The feather mites live on the birds and can be found in greyish masses on the feathers, particularly under the tail.

The chicken, or poultry mite, spends its non-feeding time hiding in cracks and crevices around the nests and roosts, getting on the birds only to feed. Malathion applied as a spray or dust controls both kinds of mites and also lice. Poultrymen should apply Malathion thoroughly to roosts, nests, and adjacent areas as well as on the birds themselves.

Fall army worms are sometimes a problem on late sweet corn. Infestations have been reported from the Marietta area in Southern Ohio. This insect is a southern pest, but it often migrates northward in late summer. The larvae, which are similar to the true army worm, often burrow into the tassel before emerging, burying themselves in the plant tissue. Control is difficult once the worms are embedded. Sweet corn growers should be on the alert and apply DDT at the rate of 2 pounds per acre. This is effective if applied early.

Fleas are usually most abundant in late summer and early fall. Many reports of cat or dog flea infestations are being received at this time. These small, brown, jumping insects often bite man around the legs and ankles. They may often be confused with chigger bites. Fleas may breed in tremendous numbers where pets or livestock are kept. They usually spread through homes during a temporary absence of pets thus making human beings a choice host for a blood meal. If a flea problem exists in a home it is important to treat the animal, its sleeping quarters and other infested areas at the same time. Sprays or dusts containing Malathion or DDT are effective in controlling fleas. Follow directions carefully for best results, Coleman said.

Awarded Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bellman, Gillett & Richards, a Toledo, Ohio, firm, has been awarded a design contract for a new federal office building in Toledo, the General Services Administration announced Wednesday. The design contract is for $32,340.

More And Better Social Workers Seen U.S. Need

CLEVELAND (AP)—More and better social workers and a lessening of the conflicts in the state, federal and local laws under which they work are needed in the opinion of the nation's director of health, education and welfare.

Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, former president of Ohio Wesleyan University, told the Ohio Welfare Conference Wednesday night that social work was a road to peace. It is foolish, he said, to regard mutual assistance cynically as a giveaway program.

"If our nation is to find or save its life, it must be willing to lose it in dedicated and intelligent service on behalf of other peoples," he said.

On the shortage of trained social workers, Flemming observed that society tends to take advantage of these people's willingness to serve. Low salaries are to blame, he said, for the shortage.

"Unless we provide rates of compensation that will be looked upon as fair, we are not going to attract and retain the number of competent men and women that we need so desperately."

Flemming was introduced by Prof. Everett C. Shimp of Ohio State University, who a few hours earlier was elected president of Ohio Welfare Conference. Professor Shimp is director of Ohio State's School of Social Administration.

FBI Arrests Man For His Unlawful Flight From Ohio

ROCKMART, Ga. (AP)—A man wanted for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for armed robbery in Ohio was arrested by FBI agents Wednesday nearly three years after he fled the Middle West.

N. R. Johnson of the FBI identified him as Ray Bambrel, 41, of Hamilton, Ohio.

Johnson said agents nabbed him on a country road near the small farm where he had been living in this town 35 miles northwest of Atlanta under the name of Dale O'connell. He surrendered quietly.

Gambrel was given a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Rowell Stantion at Rome and ordered held in Floyd County jail there under $25,000 bond. A formal hearing will be held at an early date.

The FBI said the arrest followed tips from private citizens who recognized him from photographs of wanted men.

In Cincinnati, Ohio, Special Agent Ed D. Mason said Gambrel had been identified as one of two men who robbed a Dayton couple of $900 in cash and $5,350 in U. S. Savings Bonds in 1951

Strike At GM Plant Goes Into Second Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The strike of 4,500 workers at the General Motors' Ternstedt plant here went into its second day today.

Officials of the United Automobile Workers Union said the strike was caused by a dispute over production demands, and time and work studies. Plant officials, however, said the strike was another of "UAW's hit-and-run tactics designed to hinder production of new models."

UAW workers also walked out of the plant July 10, but the 11-member executive board of Local 969 declined to sanction the strike and persuaded pickets to withdraw.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of RALPH BENNETT who passed away five years ago today. Deep in our lives there's a lonely spot, your smiling face used to fill, but nothing can take the memory that shines there and always will. Sadly missed by his wife, children and grandchildren.

MARGARET Alice Freeman. In loving memory of my darling mother, who left us 5 years ago today September 11, 1953. She left a gap in the circle that can never be replaced. How we miss her cheery laughter and her dear smiling face. For she spread a lot of sunshine round the place, when she was home. And we all died just a little when we knew that she was gone. If she knew of our grief and our sorrow, I can almost hear her say, "Don't weep, try and be happy for I am not dead, I am just away." Sadly missed by her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Beaver.

3 CARD OF THANKS

FRANCIS DEAN GRAHEK At some time or other the thought that we would suffer the loss of a loved one occurred to us, but we little realized the extent of sympathic understanding that would exist. We are more grateful than mere words can express to all of you who did so much to help us through this time.

Boy 8, Says He Plotted To Kill Parents

Stabbed Them With Kitchen Knife While They Were Asleep

NEW YORK (AP) — Melvin Nimer Jr., a blond 8-year-old with a crew-cut, says he plotted the murder of his parents—and carried it out with a kitchen knife while they slept.

His calmly told story fits the facts of the bloody Staten Island stabbing originally attributed to a white-masked intruder.

But the district attorney emphasized that there is still much to be explained about the Sept. 2 murders and that Melvin has not been arrested.

A psychiatric report on the child indicated he has a persecution complex and a personality compatible with the commission of violence.

The boy's uncle, Dr. Harold Nimer, said he does not believe the confession to the murders of Dr. Melvin Nimer and his pretty brunette wife Lore Jean, both 31.

The boy's confession was obtained by Dist. Atty. John M. Braisted of Richmond County last Saturday, but was not disclosed until late Wednesday night.

In the meantime, the calm, dry-eyed youngster flew to Utah and attended his parents' funeral—apparently never indicating that he had confessed.

Braisted said Melvin—taken to the house of death Wednesday night—"indicated to us the manner in which his parents were murdered."

No matter what the final findings in the case may be, the boy could not be charged with homicide because of his age.

Braisted said young Melvin told him:

That he plotted the murders days in advance—apparently aggrieved by some real or fancied actions of his parents. Braisted declined to say just what the grievances were.

That he seized a knife from the kitchen, walked upstairs to the parents' bedroom, and stabbed his father first, then his mother.

That his father somehow staggered to his feet and chased him downstairs, then collapsed there—where police found him.

That he washed off the knife and replaced it in the kitchen.

Testing Programs Set For School Musicians

The city schools instrumental music department's annual testing program will be held next week for fourth and fifth grade pupils interested in starting in band or orchestra.

Prospective students of East End schools and their parents will meet Tuesday night in the East Junior High School and those from the West End section Wednesday night in Westgate Junior High School. They will be at 7:30.

The tests will show the student's music potential and enable instructors to overcome weak points. Representative of the Smith & Phillips Co. and the Celli Music Center will demonstrate instruments and discuss rental plans in which a student may use an instrument until it is determined if he should continue in music.

The testing program is held each September.

Prospective students of East End schools and their parents will meet Tuesday night in the East Junior High School and those from the West End section Wednesday night in Westgate Junior High School. They will be at 7:30.

The tests will show the student's music potential and enable instructors to overcome weak points. Representative of the Smith & Phillips Co. and the Celli Music Center will demonstrate instruments and discuss rental plans in which a student may use an instrument until it is determined if he should continue in music.

The testing program is held each September.

Vacation DAZE

Some of the most beautiful "Vacation Packages" anywhere are on the beaches. They parade in every shape and size imaginable and in the gayest colors. Scenery such as this is a welcome sight for work-weary eyes. And when those two weeks are over another welcome package will be waiting back home. It's the daily Review saved while you vacation.

Call FU 5-4545 or tell your carrier. Your newspapers will be saved and delivered in a special Vacation Package when you return.

There's no extra charge for this modern way to catch up on news missed while vacationing.

You'll have all the news, political, sports and social. There'll be two whole weeks of the antics of your favorite comic characters.

Order your Vacation-Pak today and have your own personal record of what happened in your community while you were away.
